FIFTY-NINTH YEAR No. 40 LINCOLN, NEB., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 17, 1960 SEVEN CENTS

Special Session May Up Solons' Pay

By Virgil Falloon

A special session of the Nebraska Legislature to put voter-authorized salary increases for the lawmakers into effect for the 1961 session was in the making Wednesday.

Appearing at the opening of the Legislative Council session, Gov. Dwight Burney advised that a special session yet this year would be required if the senator's salaries were to be raised.

"I stand ready to call a special session if the members of the Unicameral want one," Gov. Burney said. "It would have to come after Dec. 1."

At the Nov. 8 general election, the voters approved a constitutional amendment authorizing salaries of the legislators to be increased up to $200 per month. They now receive $872 annually.

Council President Don Thompson of McCook, on motion of Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, named a 3-member committee to meet with Gov. Burney in determining an acceptable date for the special session.

Thompson named Speaker Harry Pizer of North Platte, Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln, and Sen. Carpenter to the committee.

The Carpenter motion was approved by a 30-0 vote.

All 3 are "lame duck" senators — none sought re-election — and would not be affected by the pay raise action.

Promoting the governor's bombshell announcement of the need of a special session was this legal analysis given by Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck:

The constitution provides no elected official's salary shall be increased or decreased during his term of office.

To make certain that any increase in legislative salaries can take effect in 1961, the legislation should be passed this year.

The authorizing constitutional amendment becomes effective immediately upon the governor's proclamation, which must be issued within 10 days after the state canvassing board certifies the election results. The board meets Nov. 28.

Although the salary matter would be the only item taken up at the special session, the session would take a minimum of 5 days.

The special session would be the second called during the current biennium. The late Gov. Ralph Brooks summoned legislators to special session last August to pass bills designed to spur industrial development.

The constitutional change on legislative salaries does not approve a $200-a-month pay check, but merely authorizes the Legislature to set its own salary not exceeding that amount.

STRIKE BY MTA HITS LA

Los Angeles (AP) — Bus and trolley mechanics struck Wednesday in defiance of a court order.

The heart of the nation's largest metropolitan area—already renowned for traffic jams — slipped into an advanced stage of creeping paralysis as a result.

Tieups reached unparalleled density in some areas and parking places were so scarce downtown that people were fighting over them.

Mediators met with both sides separately, but there were no indications of an early settlement. It was anybody's guess whether the strike would keep buses and streetcars off the streets for the approaching Christmas shopping season—which even in normal times produces traffic problems approaching chaos.

The Metropolitan Transit Authority, serving some 400,000 daily commuters in Los Angeles and 3 neighboring counties, sent its buses and streetcars back to the barns after 900 mechanics walked out.

The mechanics, represented by the Amalgamated Transportation Union, had been working without a contract 18 months.

Their picket lines were immediately honored by the transit authority's 2,700 drivers.

Result: Los Angeles County, which has more registered motor vehicles than 43 of the nation's 50 states, sent an even higher than usual percentage of its cars onto streets and freeways.

Police, who assigned whole new detachments to traffic duty, said the situation on the East Side was the worst in their memory.

But traffic on the Hollywood Freeway—once called the world's longest parking lot—did not appear much heavier than normal.

Heaviest congestion was in and around the downtown area. Parking lot operators were turning away strangers to save room for regular customers. Police broke up two fights between operators and drivers refused admittance to lots.

For A Quick Conference

Who'll Inherit Speaker Role?

. . . MOULTON, THOMPSON LIKELY

By Don Walton

Two state senators appear to be very much in the running for the coveted role of Speaker of the 1961 Legislature.

Holdover members of the 1959 Legislature have narrowed their choice for the speakership to either Sen. William Moulton of Omaha or Sen. Don Thompson of McCook.

Conversation boosting both traveled through legislative chambers and corridors Wednesday as state senators convened in Lincoln for sessions of the Legislative Council.

A heavy hand in determining the final selection may well lie with 16 freshman senators who take office in January.

Twenty-seven solons will be holdover members.

Speaker Harry Pizer of North Platte did not seek re-election to the Legislature.

Key Posts

Both Thompson and Moulton now hold key legislative posts.

The former is chairman of the Legislative Council and, as such, is presiding officer at the 3-day conference now underway.

Moulton is chairman of the powerful Committee on Committees.

The Omahan—who represents the 10th District—was re-elected last week to his 6th consecutive term.

Moulton is in the public relations department of an Omaha dairy with which he has been associated since 1934.

Serves 4th Term

Thompson will be serving his 4th consecutive term as senator from the 33rd District. composed of Red Willow, Furnas and Harlan Counties.

He is a farmer and stockman.

Both senators actively participated in floor debate during the past session.

The Speaker presides over the Legislature in the absence of the lieutenant governor.

He is likewise acting governor when both the governor and lieutenant governor are out of the state.

284,000 Overseas Dependents To Return . . .

CUT TOTALS BILLION

Ike's Economy Plan Is Ready

. . . Sharp Slash In Spending Abroad

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—Presdent Eisenhower Wednesday ordered a sweeping 7-point economy program aimed at saving a billion dollars a year in overseas spending.

As part of it, he ordered the gradual return beginning Jan. 1 of 284,000 overseas dependents of U.S. military forces around the world.

The White House estimated later that the emergency moves, approved after months of top-level study, would cut down by one billion dollars the amount of dollars spent abroad in 1961.

Half of this saving will come by slashing Defense Department spending, the White House said.

Buying of American instead of foreign goods for economic aid will trim another 330 million. Another 170 million is to be saved in cutting back operations of other agencies.

Special Conference

Eisenhower personally announced the moves at a special news conference at his vacation headquarters. He said the emergency steps were urgently needed to guard the nation's gold and dollar resources.

"A definite improvement in our balance of payments situation is mandatory not only to insure our economic well being and military security here at home but also to insure that the United States can continue as a strong partner in the future growth and military strength of the free world," he said.

The President's most drastic move was to order dependents of servicemen abroad to come home at a rate of 15,000 monthly.

A total of 200,000 will be allowed to remain abroad. At present there are about 484,000 military dependents scattered around the world.

Kennedy Kept Advised

The White House said that the President's far-reaching decisions had been made known Wednesday to President-elect John F. Kennedy's representatives.

In announcing the economy measures, Eisenhower stressed there was no present intention to reduce the combat strength of the some 6 divisions of American troops stationed in Europe.

"The last thing we want to do is diminish our combat strength until the NATO (North Atlantic Pact Organization) countries . . . find it possible to fill the gap," he said.

Eisenhower issued a series of special directives which ordered these other important moves:

1. The State Department must "place primary emphasis on financing goods and services of United States origin" in all economic and technical aid to other countries.

2. The Defense Department must cut "by a very substantial amount" all military buying planned abroad in 1961, both for American defense forces as well as those of allied nations.

3. Post exchanges operated overseas were ordered to stop buying foreign goods except with personal permission of the defense secretary.

4. Commissaries and stores operated by American embassies also were told to stop buying foreign goods for sale to American diplomats and their dependents.

5. All government agencies were directed to follow the Defense Department's example and reduce the number of civilian dependents stationed with their officials in overseas posts. These reductions were ordered if they can be carried out "without impairing the fulfillment of essential United States policy objectives." No ceiling was set for them.

6. The secretary of state was directed to make strong new efforts to win new tariff and trade concessions for American products shipped abroad.

7. The Agricultural Department was directed to make an increased effort to make sure cut-rate sales of surplus farm products do not reduce cash dollar sales of similar products. At present, most surplus farm goods are sold for local currencies.

Eisenhower made it emphatically clear that he expects free countries, which have grown strong with the help of American aid, to pitch in to help the United States meet its financial problems.

—FIGHTS RAGE EVERYWHERE—

Riots Shatter New Orleans

New Orleans (AP)—Riotous demonstrations against school race mixing exploded again and again throughout New Orleans Wednesday and Wednesday night.

During the day 59 persons, including 3 Negroes, were arrested, and at night, 34 additional arrests, including 31 Negroes, were made.

In day-long demonstrations, screaming demonstrators grudgingly gave ground to clubbing police and arching fire hoses, but the gangs reorganized and hit other spots.

Numerous persons, both white and Negro, were hurt.

Violence

And scattered violence continued under a rain that broke up the big mobs at mid-afternoon. White youths stabbed a Negro boy near Charity Hospital in latest violence.

More than 1,000 demonstrators—most of them beardless truants from the high schools—failed to reach the school board offices in the center of downtown New Orleans.

Three hundred turbulent teen-agers re-formed after hoses and clubs drove them from the streets and tried to charge into city hall a few blocks away.

Again mounted police and fire hoses shattered the wall of screaming and drenched youths.

Beat Cop

Segments turned to the narrow streets of the famed French Quarter and wended their chanting ways under iron-lace balconies. Some teen-agers seized a policeman and beat him savagely.

As the fire hoses began hissing in front of the school board office, Mrs. Murial Schneider, mother of two, grabbed Police Supt. Joseph Giarrusso by the trouser leg and pleaded:

"Chief, help us, not the U.S. government."

Tears streamed down her cheeks.

"We'll help you," said Giarrusso, "if you do it in an orderly manner, but we are not going to let you take over the city."

Cross Burned

Scattered incidents broke out in various parts of the city throughout the evening.

A large cross was burned at the edge of the famed garden district.

Police reported a number of instances of Negroes throwing rocks at buses and cars. In most cases, the crowds had dispersed by the time police reached the scene.

In two cases, groups of Negro youths were sought for beating white youths.

Impeachment

While the uproar echoed against the walls of downtown buildings, U.S. Sen. Russell Long (D-La) stood before an infuriated Louisiana Legislature in Baton Rouge and said:

"I would be personally willing to impeach the entire supreme court if my vote would do it."

The senator virtually told the legislature it was on its own.

"The situation in Washington," he said, "is likely to get worse. We simply do not have the votes."

Abandon

And, he suggested the legislature abandon public schools and turn to a segregated private school system.

Almost forgotten in the tumultuous sequence of violence were the 4 little Negro first-grade girls whose entry into white public elementary schools for the first time in more than 80 years began the see-saw of strength in the deep South's largest city.

State Farm Bureau Votes On Program

Includes Land Retirement With Support Restrictions

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

A national farm program that would include land retirement with price support levels "not to be established at a level that will require the allocation of the right of produce" won approval of voting delegates at the 1960 State Farm Bureau convention Wednesday.

Alfred Schutte of Guide Rock, president of the Webster County Farm Bureau charged that the state resolution failed to speak for the "farmer in the country" and that a large number of county resolutions designed to control production or increase farm income had failed to survive preliminary resolution committee action.

Schutte suggested a vote by ballot to every Farm Bureau member to determine what he termed, "the members' feeling on farm policy."

His suggestion failed to gain support of the voting delegates.

Dues Rise

Beginning with 1962 Farm Bureau memberships, dues will be $20 per member in a resolution passed following lengthy discussion by members on the advisability of doubling the present dues.

"With our finances $1,900 in the red and our research program curtailed we've got to join together and meet our responsibilities," was the argument of a Farm Bureau member in favor of the raise.

Those opposing an increase in dues spoke of county level objection and the fear of losing members with a higher membership.

The motion to increase dues carried with 87 voting delegates approving the dues that will be divided $7.00 to the County Farm Bureau, $12.00 to the Nebraska Farm Bureau and $1.00 to the American Farm Bureau.

Want New Tax

On tax measures Farm Bureau members requested that the 1961 session of the Unicameral enact a sales and or income tax.

Another look to the State Game Commission came in resolution form on financing the Department of Game, Forestation and Parks.

This resolution read: We view with concern the trend toward sizeable increases in property taxes to support the Department of Game, Forestation and Parks. We believe that funds for this purpose should be largely derived from people who use the facilities.

Extension of federal aid to schools was opposed by Farm Bureau members with a request that if federal aid was forthcoming it should be in the form of grants to states to be used under their direction.

More care and diligence in the handling of farm chemicals and related products was requested in resolution form and that in event legislation relating to this problem is introduced in the Legislature, the members authorized their representatives to appropriately protect the interest of farm people.

Charles Marshall of Avoca was re-elected president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau.

Mrs. Herman Link of Ravenna was elected woman director at-large; E. J. Mollhoff of Tilden was named director of District 3 and Gilbert Misegadis of Sunol was named director of District 8.

Balmy Weather Sticks Around

Nebraskans Thursday can look forward to more of the same balmy weather they enjoyed Wednesday.

Temperatures are expected to climb slightly and skies will be clear to partly cloudy over the state.

The Panhandle will have occasional gusty winds and highs between 45 and 55. Elsewhere, the mercury will top off in the 50s.

Wednesday's high in Lincoln was 49, the low 33. Sidney had the state high of 53 and shared the low of 17 with North Platte.

Kennedy, Lyndon To Map Plans

Johnson City, Tex. (AP)—John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, both wearing Western 10-gallon hats, met Wednesday night for the first time since their election for conferences on the massive problems confronting their administration.

Starting Wednesday night and carrying through Thursday, the president-elect and vice president-elect will confer in the seclusion of Johnson's LBJ Ranch on the Pedernales River near here.

They greeted each other warmly on Kennedy's arrival by plane at the LBJ Ranch airstrip.

Casual

Johnson and his wife, Lady Bird, wearing casual ranch-style clothes, went aboard the Johnson Loadstar plane which brought the president-elect from Bergstrom Air Force Base, about 65 miles east of here.

After spending a moment inside the plane Johnson and Kennedy came out to pose for photographers. One of the cameramen asked for a handshake.

With a grin, Kennedy looked at Johnson in his big Western hat and remarked:

"I could see you if you would take that hat off."

Laughter

Johnson joined in the laughter and shoved the hat to the back of his head.

From the plane side, Johnson escorted Kennedy to a nearby hangar where they were met by a representative of the small community of Stonewall.

The official said the people of his town were proud and happy to have Kennedy in their midst and wanted to wish him luck.

Gift Hat

Then Kennedy was given a Western 10-gallon hat, gift of the people of Stonewall.

Kennedy put on the hat after he had gotten into his car with the Johnsons.

At that point, a light rain began to fall and Johnson, at the wheel of the convertible, stopped to raise the top. He then took his guest on about a 20-minute tour of the ranch. However, it was dark and Kennedy got to see very little of the sprawling ranch.

California Captured By Nixon

KENNEDY ELECTION ASSURED

Dick's Prestige At Home Strengthened

San Francisco (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon captured California's 32 electoral votes Wednesday night on unofficial returns from a wave of more than 230,000 absentee ballots counted 8 days after the polls closed.

Nixon led in California by 13,160 votes.

Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy was still president-elect, based on national electoral vote totals in the closest race in modern times.

Republican Nixon had the coinsolation of eking out victory in his home state after Kennedy had led narrowly from start to finish of the regular vote count.

Here were the latest unofficial California figures:

Absentees:

Nixon 132,186; Kennedy 84,458.

Statewide resident and absentee:

Nixon 3,219,211; Kennedy 3,206,051.

The remaining absentee votes—about 20,000—were mainly in the Republican strongholds of San Diego and Orange Counties.

The official canvass, due by Nov. 28, will give the final score, but it appeared that only a gross error at the county clerk level in some major counties could upset Nixon's success in California.

Kennedy's election was not jeopardized by the California switch but his margin was reduced and Nixon's prestige in his home state was strengthened.

Los Angeles County, which had most of the remaining absentee votes, was giving Nixon a consistent edge of better than 63%.

Normally more Republicans than Democrats obtain absentee ballots.

The California registration, however, is heavily Democratic. Of 7,464,626 registered voters, 4,295,330 are Democrats and 2,926,408 are Republicans, with 242,888 miscellaneous.

Daly Resigns

... Hagerty May Get His ABC Post

From Press Reports

New York—Veteran broadcaster John Daly resigned Wednesday as vice president in charge of the American Broadcasting Co.'s news and public affairs department.

Hagerty

The resignation was promptly accepted by ABC, setting off strong broadcasting rumors that Daly's successor would be James Hagerty, press secretary to President Eisenhower.

Officially, ABC would make no comment on the report that Hagerty would take over Daly's post after his White House duties with the outgoing Eisenhower administration end.

Velotta Takes Over

And the network temporarily designated Thomas Velotta, vice president in charge of special affairs for the ABC news and public affairs department, to take over immediate administration of the department directed since 1953 by Daly.

Reports have been published recently that Hagerty was interested in a broadcasting industry post after he leaves his White House job.

Daly's yearly income from all of his broadcasting activities has been estimated in industry circles as about $250,000. These same sources estimated his job as ABC vice president earned him around $50,000 annually.

Hagerty Mum

At President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga., Hagerty would neither confirm nor deny the reports. "When I have any announcement about my future plans," he said, "I'll let you know."

Daly's disagreement with the network was outlined in a statement to Leonard Goldenson, president of ABC-Paramount, the network's parent company.

Daly differed with the network on its allowing outside packaging of documentary production. It was announced earlier that the network would co-sponsor with Time, Inc., 4 one-hour documentary programs this season.

Resignation Offered

Daly said in his resignation letter to Goldenson:

"I feel so strongly about these differences on policy and your apparent refusal or inability to support the principles I consider necessary to sound operation of a news department, that I should like also and do hereby request that you further release me from any and all remaining obligations from my contract."

Polio Fighter: 'Don't Rest On Laurels'

Beatrice Wright Fuerst, who walked again after polio struck her in 1949, told local chapter members of the National Foundation Wednesday: "Don't rest on your laurels in Lancaster County."

Speaking at a public meeting in the Cornhusker Hotel, she urged county chapter members to "continue to urge people to get vaccinated against polio."

The National Foundation's one objective since it was set up 23 years ago, Mrs. Fuerst said, 'was to attack a disease that has plagued mankind through all history."

She noted: "Now is would seem our dream has come true. Not really, though," she asserted, "till all Americans are vaccinated against polio. It still strikes."

Subject Of Book

Mrs. Fuerst's encounter with polio and her victory over it is the subject of the book, "On the Shoulders of Giants."

While she was working in 1949 for the Wayne County (Mich.) chapter of the Foundation, polio struck her. Later that year she returned to work in a wheel chair. She progressed to crutches and finally discarded them after 7 years' therapy.

Mrs. Fuerst now lives at Rhinebeck, N.Y., a town 16 miles north of Hyde Park, home of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt who suffered from infantile paralysis, a form of poliomyelitis.

Illinois Prison Setup Impresses State Group

By Roger Wait

The diagnostic center for reception of prisoners at the Joliet, Ill., State Prison "favorably impressed" 3 members of the Legislative Council's penal affairs committee.

Sen. David D. Tews of Norfolk, chairman of the committee, said Wednesday: "We'd like to adopt something on the order they have but on a smaller scale."

Tews and committee members Edwin T. McHugh of Murdock and Joseph T. Vosoba of Wilber returned to Nebraska Wednesday after an intensive 6-hour tour of the Illinois prisoner reception center.

Warden Maurice H. Sigler of the Nebraska Penitentiary accompanied the senators on the air trip to Joliet and Stateville, the two large sections of Illinois' prison system.

The penal affairs committee Thursday afternoon will present its recommendations to the full 43-member Legislative Council, Tews said.

Want Center

"We're going to recommend a reception center of some type be established in Nebraska," he said, adding that the experience of Illinois prison officials "would enable us to avoid the errors we'd make if we tried to start out from scratch."

During the senators' and warden's tour, Joseph E. Ragan, Illinois warden for 28 years, described the center's history and operation.

Sigler said the Joliet diagnostic center was established in 1933 and "Illinois has one of the outstanding ones in the United States."

In For Testing

He explained that men the Illinois courts sentence to prison go initially to the center for 3 to 6 weeks of observation and testing by psychiatrists, clinical psychologists and sociologists.

The purpoe, Sigler said, "is to determine where the prisoners should go."

The various institutions of the Illinois penal system, he said, handle the 5 categories of prisoners: normal ones, the mentally deficient, psychotics, anti-social psychopaths and the sexually dangerous.

Better Control

Dr. Roy Barrick, head of the diagnostic center, and his staff told the Nebraskans that Illinois had gained better control over all types of criminals, greater public safety and improved prisoner rehabilitation.

Sigler said that American penologists generally accept the reception center idea "as the proper way to treat prisoners."

Under the present Nebraska system, courts sentence law violators to specific institutions.

The Illinois method, Sigler noted, is for courts to sentence men to the penitentiary reception center branch, which then recommends to the penal system's head where prisoners should go.

Other members of the penal affairs committee are Sens. Harry Pizer of North Platte and Al Fenske of Sunol.

Churchill Has Fall

Bone In Back Broken But His Outlook Good

London (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill lay prostrate and in pain Wednesday night with a broken bone in his back.

From the 85-year-old statesman's sickroom came reassuring news, but the nation remained anxious.

"There is no cause for anxiety," said Anthony Montague-Browne, Churchill's secretary.

He added that Churchill will have to stay in bed "for a little time."

Churchill stumbled and fell as he came home Tuesday midnight from an engagement.

An X-ray showed a small bone in his back was fractured. The old man was ordered to bed.

Churchill took it all in fine spirit.

Two strokes and several bouts of pneumonia laid him low several times before he retired as prime minister in 1955.

A condemnation action for an easement across 11,475 acres of land in Lancaster and Cass Counties for an underground cable of the Lincoln Missile Complex was on file Wednesday in U.S. District Court at Lincoln.

The U.S. Air Force asks a 35-foot wide construction easement and a 16½-foot perpetual easement for the cable connecting the missile sites in the Lincoln area.

The sought easement would cross the northern one-third of Lancaster County to north of Waverly, then in Cass County to 3 miles south of Greenwood and to some 4 miles southwest of Weeping Water.

Dedication Set This Month For St. Paul's Post Office

Lincoln Star Special

St. Paul — A new post office will be dedicated here Saturday, Nov. 26, Postmaster C. J. Suchanek announced.

Co-operating in the dedication program will be the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce and city officials. Mayor George Zlomke has taken note of the event by proclaiming Nov. 26 as "Post Office Dedication Day".

The dedication ceremonies will be held at 2 p.m. at the Legion Hall. Visiting postal officials will register at the new post office prior to the program.

Plan Open House

Open house will be held for the public at the new facility following the program.

In the evening Postmaster and Mrs. Suchanek will entertain visiting postmasters and postal officials at a dinner at the Legion Hall.

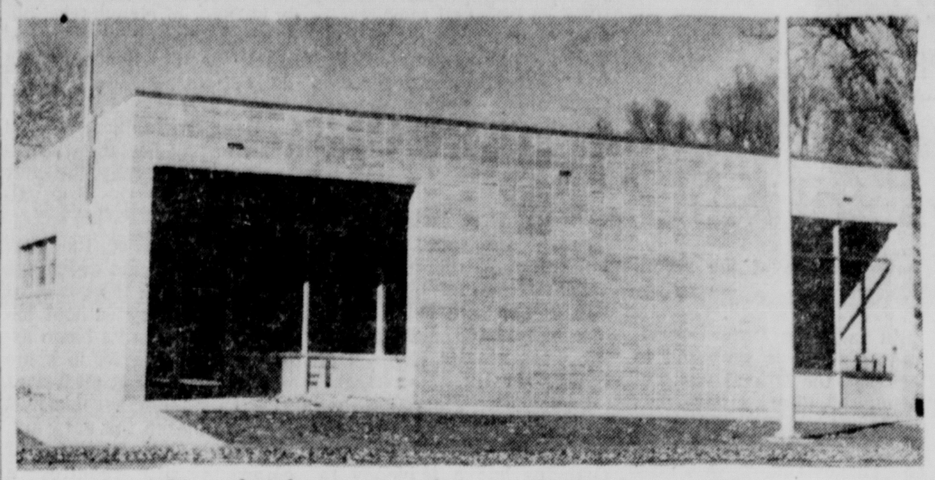
The new 44 x 66 brick structure was constructed on the former Sturdevant property at the northwest corner of 7th and Indian, a block north of the present post office. Mr. and Mrs. Dean R. Armstrong of St. Paul own the building, which will be leased to the Federal government.

In the 89 years since the first post office was established at St. Paul, the facilities have been located in at least 3 places other than the new building. The post office was first located on Howard Avenue where the St. Paul Phonograph is now housed. It moved later to the present Family Shoe Store Building, and in 1929 was moved to the present Svoboda building at the corner of 7th and Howard.

Receipts Show Growth

Postal receipts have grown steadily since Postmaster Jacob Peters opened the first post office on July 12, 1871. Stamp sales 20 years ago were $9,000. Ten years ago they totaled $14,000, and the present stamp sales total about $25,000 annually.

In addition to Postmaster Suchanek, who has been employed in the office since July 1, 1924, the present staff of employees includes Ernie B. Johnson, assistant postmaster, with 25 years of service, and Edward L. Paulsen, clerk; Wayne Coons, substitute clerk; Ted Wild and Eugene Zocholl, rural carriers; A. J. Lynch and Charles Potts, substitute rural carriers; Dale Johnson, city carrier; and Dale Matousek and Ernest Cerney, substitute city carriers.



New brick structure houses St. Paul post office.

Garland Native Named Head Of College In Iowa

Mount Vernon, Ia. (UPI) — Dr. Arland F. Christ-Janer, a native of Garland, Neb., and a wartime flier who survived a 4-day ordeal on a raft after crash-landing in a bomber, was named president of Cornell College here.

Christ-Janer, 38, served as vice president of St. John's College at Annapolis, Md., since 1959. He will assume his new duties at Cornell on Feb. 1, 1961.

He received a degree at Yale University Divinity School in 1949 and his doctor's degree at the University of Chicago in 1952.

Gage Courthouse Bid Opening Set

Beatrice (AP) — The County Board will open bids Dec. 8 on rebuilding of the Gage County Courthouse which was heavily damaged by a fire last January.

Last spring voters turned down a bond proposal to finance building a new courthouse.

Rebuilding the present structure will cost an estimated $275,000 to be financed by insurance, money borrowed from other funds and a one year 1 mill levy.

Only the County Court has been able to use the building since the fire.

Added Emphasis Given Ag Pioneering Effort

Nebraska's efforts to build an industrial research program for agricultural raw materials on a regional level will receive added emphasis in the next few months, Pearle F. Finigan, state director of agriculture, said.

With lawmakers in neighboring states set to convene early in 1961, Nebraska's pioneering efforts in this area will receive attention as a pattern for new programs, he said.

Similar research programs in neighboring states will have several beneficial effects on Nebraska's work.

By providing funds, neighboring states can enter into basic research through the agricultural Products Utilization Association, Inc., a cooperative organization in which Nebraska has taken the lead.

"Basic projects, which are of value to all states, should be equitably financed by all the states which will reap the benefits," Finigan said.

Added funds for industrial uses research will mean more scientists and more institutions working on projects to find new industrial markets, thus increasing the chances for success.

An additional benefit will come indirectly through the institutions which do the work. With an increased number of projects dealing with agricultural raw materials, they will be in a position to secure more outstanding scientists and thus upgrade their staffs.

To build an effective long range effort, the agricultural area of the midwest will need to build top scientific staffs that specialize in agricultural problems in much the same manner as the chemical industry or petroleum industry has built staffs of specialists to cope with their problems in staying ahead of competition, Finigan said.

Approaches to developing an integrated regional effort will again be discussed at the next meeting of the Agricultural Products Utilization Association, Inc. slated for Des Moines, Ia., on Nov. 21.

"By cooperating with our neighbors in supplying information on our own success, Nebraska will have an added opportunity to gain respect and contribute to agriculture in general," he said.

Wesleyan Students Top Scholars

Nebraska Wesleyan University has two National Merit Scholarship winners this year. Juanita Patterson, a freshman from Fairmont, and Larry Paxson, a sophomore from Alma, ranked among the top 2% of all high school seniors at the time of their graduation and now attend Wesleyan under the auspices of Shell Merit Scholarships. Shell scholarships are designed to aid students planning careers as high school science and mathematics teachers.

Reclamation States Under Discrimination

. . . Says Dominy

Bakersfield, Calif. (AP) — Reclamation Commissioner Floyd E. Dominy said Wednesday federal public works and natural resource development policies discriminate against the 17 Western reclamation states.

Dominy told the 29th annual convention of the National Reclamation Assn. this is true because law requires reimbursement to the federal treasury of expenditures for reclamation development services while similar services in connection with other federal resource developments are not reimbursable.

"Other agencies appear able to offer almost unlimited funds for research and investigative purposes simply because virtually their entire program is nonreimbursable," Dominy said.

"In reclamation development, these expenditures are billed back against the project and the water and power users ultimately find them on the bill which must be paid to the federal treasury . . .

"I believe firmly in the repayment principle, but in fairness and equity it should apply uniformly to all purposes benefited and to all federal programs.

"Or, conversely, it should not be applied to reclamation if other benefits are to enjoy the free ride"

He did not identify the other government agencies which do not require reimbursement for resource development but they include the Army Engineers and the Agriculture Department.

North Platte OKs Gas Franchise

North Platte (AP) — A new 25-year natural gas franchise for the Northern Public Service Co. has been approved by voters 1,873 to 45, City Clerk Millard Adamson said Wednesday.

Northwestern Public Service's 20-year franchise with the city expires Sept. 1, 1961. A simple majority of votes had been needed to approve the contract renewal.

Wendell Wood, manager of the firm's North Platte office, called the approval a "vote of confidence" in the company.

Mother Regains Her 5 Children

Scottsbluff (UPI) —A writ of habeas corpus was filed in Scotts Bluff County District Court by Millie Mink England of Scottsbluff regarding release of 5 children presently in custody of the Scotts Bluff County welfare department.

The writ was granted by District Judge R. M. Van Steenburg.

Mrs. England and her 5 children were found late last summer living in a car parked along the highway between Scottsbluff and Mitchell. The children had been placed in foster homes and the Children' Home in Omaha.

Mrs. England has since remarried and was awarded custody of the children.

Sugar Beets In West Set New Record

Scottsbluff (UPI) — All the sugar beets are out of the fields around the Scottsbluff and Gering area.

The Great Western Sugar Co., announced that they had a record high year for both the sugar beet producing areas.

Scottsbluff area produced 189,000 tons of beets and the Gering area totaled 180,000 tons, making a total production of 369,000 tons on 18,911 acres, with an average yield of 19.61 tons per acre.

This Saturday, the sugar company will make the first payment on the beets for the year, paying $9.97 per ton for a total of $3,649,000 for the two areas combined.

Great Western noted that the content of the beets was up by one per cent over last year.

It was also pointed out that the sugar act expires next March 31, and an increase acreage in the area can be expected for the 1961 crop.

President On Call 24 Hours A Day, Gray Points Out

Omaha (AP) — A member of the Republican administration said Wednesday that Sen. John F. Kennedy beyond a doubt will be a "full-time" president — "he has no alternative."

"No president can ever work less than full time," said Robert K. Gray, secretary of the cabinet. "He is on call 24 hours a day."

Gray, a Hastings native, was here Wednesday for a Rotary Club talk.

He said President Eisenhower "always takes work with him, if not always in his hand at least always in his head."

Though Eisenhower likes to read, watch a movie or play bridge before retiring at 9:30 or 10 p.m., Gray said, he never enjoys total relaxation. For example, during one bridge game he might be interrupted by 4 or 5 telephone calls, Gray added.

Gray said he plans to enter private business in Washington in January. Eventually, he said, he hopes to return to Nebraska, possibly to run for office.

Valuations To Court

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Any way you look at it, the action brought by Attorney Robert Guenzel against tax assessments of the city of Lincoln is going to be a constructive one. When this suit is settled, we should know whether the city is right or wrong in its method of assessing property and this is an essential piece of information for several reasons. The suit is a mandamus action, seeking to force the city assessor to equalize assessments as between business and residential property in the city.

There is no question that such a state of equality should exist but there is considerable question as to when such equality exists. Guenzel has long been an advocate of consolidation of certain city and county affairs, particularly the taxing division of the two governments. To achieve such a merger, of course, means the use of only one set of assessment figures. In a report in June of 1960, Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., certified public accountants of Chicago, noted the existing differences in the assessment structure of the two governments.

Using One Set Of Figures

What the accountants' report said was that the city valuations were about 15 per cent higher than the county's and that the difference was primarily in business property. The report noted that if the city switched to the county valuations, "city real estate taxes on residential property might increase by more than 10 per cent, while nearly all of the reductions would occur on business property."

That quote is the key to this whole business, including the suit now pending in District Court by Guenzel. It can be said that the accountants' report in this specific area was very vague. It offered no proof of its assertions and it appeared that the terms "taxes," "actual value," and "assessed value" may have been used with not enough precision.

Yet, that is what the report says. It was based on reliable information for competent government officials and agreement with the findings of the report are widespread. It has long been accepted in the area of common knowledge that the city does make a practice of using higher valuations on business property because it is revenue-producing. Consequently, to understand the significance of this latest court action, it must be assumed that success of the suit would result in a 10 per cent increase in taxes on the part of Lincoln home-owners.

On this basis, there is little wonder that the City Council was not very receptive to a more detailed study of the situation by Mitchell & Co. A more detailed study was suggested but turned down by the city. After all, what City Council would want to tell the taxpayers that they intended to raise taxes 10 per cent while saving them a few thousand dollars a year? The fact is that the valuation changes the suit alleges should be made constitute political suicide.

The city mill levy is currently 17.8 mills, $17.80 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation. The city also levies, on its valuations, another 1 mill for the Airport Authority—making the total levy on city valuations 18.8 mills. A 10 per cent increase would make the levy 20.68 mills. This is a 1.88 mill increase with virtually no corresponding benefit to taxpayers by way of improved or expanded government services.

Even with planned better services, the city sweats blood when it raises the levy 1 or 1.5 mills. This gives you some idea of the reaction that could come from a city switch to county valuations. Thus, as a practical matter the switch might well be condemned. But, we operate in this land of ours under a system of law—equal justice for all.

Looked at in another way, without the switch to county valuations residential property owners enjoy a 10 per cent advantage over other property. Under law this cannot be permitted and the fact that things have been that way for years makes them no more acceptable today. Complicating the picture for the city is the growing talk of discontinuing the tax on intangibles. Loss of this revenue plus a hike in the levy occasioned by a change in valuations would mean the city would have to have a charter change to increase its tax limit in order to carry on current government activities. And a charter change to increase the limit, and thereby the taxes, could have a rough time in the face of a 10 per cent increase already slapped on home-owners.

The Intangible Tax

Naturally, Guenzel still has to win his suit before all of these things come to pass but the weight of evidence appears to be very firmly in his favor. For the City Council and Pat Boyles, this could be a development of real severity. It could be the end to the comparatively peaceful state of affairs Mayor Boyles has enjoyed during his present term of office.

Schuman's Proposals

Charles Schuman, president of the American Farm Bureau, preached uneasy doctrine to the convention of the Nebraska Farm Bureau.

He made it clear that the Farm Bureau will not go along with President-elect Kennedy's farm program proposals, nor with production controls, federally administered, strict enough to cope with the surplus problem, nor with two price systems of a character described by recent discussions. His alternative seems to be a gigantic soil bank program, at government expense, of course, and a gradual return to the disciplines of the open market, with accent on the gradual.

His proposals could be called wistful were it not for their attack upon the disposition of agriculture to co-operate with the new national administration in a joint and earnest effort to bring farming to a more wholesome state than it has experienced during the past unhappy eight years.

Before this battle starts, agriculture should give thought to its position, its logic, its weapons and its strength.

Politically the Middle West has just lost five congressional seats, the South, seven. These are from the core of agricultural strength. The seats went largely to the urban states which are not disposed to lavish subsidies for agriculture.

In cold logic, this claptrap about gradual return to the open market, about unrestrained production and the temporary expedient of hiring land out of production is demolished by visible facts. This course as it has been pursued has not eliminated the surplus, but has added several billions annually to the public cost.

The Bureau's proposal for greatly more soil bank can add as much as a billion dollars to the already great federal annual outlay. But if one examines the record the present set-out of something more than 25 million acres has not recommended the program as a practical force against surpluses. While Mr. Schuman was making his statements, the papers were running the impressive fact that Nebraska set a new state record this year in total crop output. The production was 60 per cent over the 1947-49 average.

This may all make sense to the Farm Bureau, but not to the new administration nor to an urban oriented congress.

The Changing World

Friday is the anniversary of two significant American events.

In 1823 President Monroe used the day to present his famous Monroe Doctrine to the Congress of the United States.

In 1940 — 117 years later — a group of intensely watchful scientists triggered the world's first atomic pile under the Chicago University stadium, and the first human controlled self-sustaining nuclear reaction took place.

These two seemingly unrelated events turned out to have a common denominator. They had a direct effect in the area of national self-determination.

In 1823 a relative small and weak nation was able to project its sovereignty across a hemisphere and make the world play to the piper's tune. But the later day which brought into being nuclear warfare put a sovereignty restraint on the most powerful nation ever to exist — the United States — as well as on the great powers which are its arch rivals.

New facts changed the definition of sovereignty. But old political concepts still remain. All nations have less self-determination than they had in Monroe's time and the change did not have direct political origins. The political problem today has to do with accommodation to the condition of a new world. It cannot be solved by determinations based on past and gone conditions.

Hogwash On The Campus

If the Platte River were drying up and Lincoln's water supply were threatened with extinction, it would be a calamity of unprecedented proportions. And if, in the face of this, the City Council spent its time discussing the settlement of pioneers along the Platte, people in general would think the Council members to be a little cracked in the upper story. The story of the pioneers, in those high-sounding legal words, would be immaterial and irrelevant.

And that is just exactly the status of arguments used by the University of Nebraska in advocating a last-minute and costly switch in the location of the Lincoln access route to the Interstate Highway. The university says that the area west of 10th Street represents 25 per cent of its potential growth area. Then, we hear of all the great need for campus expansion and its certain crowded conditions in the future.

But the fact is that even if the area west of 10th does represent 25 per cent of the potential growth area of the university, it has nothing to do with relocating the Interstate access. In fact, the university plan for the access—running it northward halfway between 9th and 10th rather than along the present 10th Street right-of-way—would ruin this 25 per cent expansion area, not protect it. The university's reasoning in this thing is absurd and completely illogical.

With the access on 10th, the university can eventually acquire all the property between 9th and 10th and have an easy connection with its campus east of 10th by passage under the elevated access route. Moving the access one-half block west of 10th would simply eat up for a public road private property that could eventually be used by the university. Keeping the access on 10th deprives the university of nothing because the route would be on a right-of-way that is to be maintained for street purposes regardless of where the Interstate connection goes. The university is working against its own interests in this issue but doesn't seem to know it and the taxpayers are expected to shell out an additional $1 million or more for the folly. Here's hoping there are some public officials some place along the line who can see beyond their noses.

Disneyland Best Haven Of Rest

DISNEYLAND, Calif. — When President-elect Kennedy wanted to relax from the rigors of the recent election he went to his father's winter home in Palm Beach, Fla. When Vice President Nixon wanted to forget the fatigue of the campaign he went to Miami.

Both are delightul places. But for sheer change I recommend the mecca of make-believe, Disneyland.

At any rate that's where I came after the campaign to relax with my three eldest grandsons. To tell the truth, it isn't completely relaxing to be kept on your mettle by three energetic youngsters ranging from six to 13. But it is different.

For, there's something about the spookiness of "Mr. Toad's Wild Ride," or flying with Peter Pan over goblins and dragons, or scooting down Mount Matterhorn on the most breathless and scenic roller coaster in three continents, or whipping around a giant tea table in one of the "Mad Hatter's Whirling Teacups" that takes you a long way from the problem of electing a president, the beard of Fidel Castro, or the caprices of Patrice Lumumba in the Congo.

I recommend it as an escape valve for tired candidates, for tired statesmen, or for tired newspapermen. And I can readily understand why I once found my old "friend," Harry Truman, out there, why Premier Khrushchev wanted to come here — though barred by the State Department—and why the crown prince of Japan was one of the recent visitors.

In fact, the State Department, which is supposed to arrange the official visits of foreign dignitaries, now finds itself out in the cold when it comes to scheduling trips to Disneyland. Officially these presidents, kings and potentates are supposed to ask Wiley Buchanan, head of the striped-pants division of the State Department, otherwise known as protocol, to arrange trips to Disneyland. But a lot of them don't bother any more. They just call up and come out on their own.

It was Mrs. Truman, however, who arranged Harry's trip. He was a little reluctant at first. But when they got out here, it was Mrs. Truman who was reluctant to taking the steep curves and the fast dips of the Matterhorn roller coaster.

"Now you got me here, you chickened out on me," the former president kidded his wife.

However, both are itching for the day when they can give personally conducted tours to their two grandchildren, both still too young for the romance of Disneyland. All this is why there are more adult visitors to Disneyland than children. The ratio is four adults to one child; which shows that all of us are kids at heart, and you can't blame Khrushchev, having been barred from Disneyland by overcautious security officers, for building a "Disneyland" of his own in Moscow.

Big States Get Increasing Power

WASHINGTON — Population figures just announced herald a significant shift in the balance of power of American politics in favor of key industrial states and booming California.

The change is being made at the expense of the East, Midwest and some Southern and border states. In all, nine states gain at the expense of 16 others.

The effect will be felt in the 1962 congressional elections and go on from there. Thus the next presidential election will be confirmed in the pattern it assumed this year when the candidates beamed their appeals chiefly to big states with a wide cross-section of people and interests.

The national influence of the South and Midwest will decline as it has started to do in the recent past. California is the big winner with a gain of eight House seats and a rise in electoral votes from 32 to 40. It will be almost as big an electoral college prize as New York, which drops from 45 to 43.

Exceptions to southern diminishment are Florida and Texas. Florida, already a two-party state nationally and fast becoming so locally, gains four House seats. Texas gets one more and it too will be pushed further into the two-party direction though the character of its population has not altered as significantly as in the case of Florida.

Ideologically the effect is not as clear as it is geographically. It can be said positively that western issues — water resources, power and reclamation—will get more attention.

Similarly, certain kinds of social legislation as in the health and education fields will gain important support and their diehard opponents will be fewer in number. Arkansas alone loses two House members and one of them could be Wilbur Mills, the conservative chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, where all tax measures and social security legislation originate.

For example, California's eight new seats could be considered the equivalent of eight lost in the East or as one more than were lost in seven southern and border states. Five Midwest states with few friends of social legislation in the House lost one House seat each.

In the economic sector, however, other considerations intrude. In California and Florida, for example, older men and women are in part responsible for their big census gains and such voters, living on retirement income or fortunes already made, tend to be more conservative economically. The increase in industrial opportunities among the census winners attracts, too, a more stable worker who becomes more conservative as his wages increase.

If Vice-President Richard M. Nixon takes California, as now seems possible, he will owe much to its senior citizens, whom the Democrats frankly admit they had trouble reaching. California Republicans widely advertised also that the state would lose industry if Sen. John F. Kennedy won: his flat denials do not appear to have been altogether convincing.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

To Your Good Health

"Dear Dr. Molner: I enjoy walking. For 15 years I walked 10 miles a day—distributed throughout the day, of course. I am now 71 and walk four miles a day. Had an operation about four years ago and numerous doctors were surprised at my wonderful condition, which I feel is due to my earlier life of care.—Mrs. J. W."

Dr. Molner

And there are high school kids who feel abused if they have to walk as much as ONE mile a day! Walking the cheapest and most available of exercises, is a wonderful conditioner for the body, especially if you move right along. A slow dawdle is better than sitting down, but not as good as a brisk walk.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My baby is due soon. My husband is a diabetic, but he said no one in his family had the disease before. Will our baby have diabetes? If so, what are its chances of living?—D.G."

I suppose it's possible that no one in his family had the disease before but I doubt it Diabetes has a tendency to follow a hereditary pattern. It may skip a generation here and there. If it is present on both sides of the family, the chance of a child having diabetes is much stronger than if the disease is present on only one side Will your baby have diabetes, sometime in its life? I don't know. Nobody knows.

But suppose it does? If the disease appears, treat it! Since your husband has it, be on the alert But your husband lived. Why shouldn't the baby? In short, don't worry because you may have a problem. Rather, learn what to do about this quite common problem.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Your column on itch brought back memories and how miserable it can be. I stopped the daily bath or shower, as my skin was dry, No more itch! I notice the letter from your reader mentioned a daily shower.—M. H."

People with naturally dry skins add to the risk of itch by taking too many baths or showers which make the skin drier yet. I'm thoroughly in favor of cleanliness, but it's possible to look clean and smell good without taking daily baths.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Do you know of any doctors who remove cataracts by the new method—using the drug alpha chymar?—E.G."

This is one of the new things in medicine which has been publicized too much as a new discovery without being explained in its basic aspects. The drug is, in some cases, helpful. But all it does is HELP the surgeon. It tends to loosen the cataract, but that's all. Removal of cataracts still requires a surgeon's services.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is the new oral vaccine for polio superior to the injection type —Dr. Salk's vaccine? — O.R.T."

I don't know. It's too soon to tell. But I'll say this: Why argue about which is better when so many millions of people haven't had their Salk shots yet? One thing is certain: The Salk vaccine is excellent, if only people will have their shots. It can't do anybody any good as long as it is left sitting on the shelf. And that's what we've done.

☆ ☆ ☆

Note to A. C.: Birthmarks can be of various colors, including bright red, purple, and so on. There is also a sort of birthmark called a hemangioma, which is a collection of more than the usual number of blood vessels close to the skin. Most of them can be successfully removed if they are really a problem to you—on the face, for example.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can a person with low blood sugar develop diabetes? — Mrs. L.S."

Yes, in certain instances a period of low blood sugar may precede diabetes. Your protection is to have regular checks of the blood and urine, to see if sugar appears in it—especially if other members of your family have had diabetes.

☆ ☆ ☆

Note to G. D.: If hardened wax in the ears is "impacted"—hardened and jammed into the ear canal, a once-a-year visit to a doctor is the only way to handle it. If not too hard, it can be removed by using a syringe to rinse the ear with a mild, warm solution of soda and water, sometimes using a few drops of sweet oil first to soften the wax. Under no circumstances use toothpicks, hairpins, or other such things to try to pry the wax out. You can't, and it's dangerous.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

BOB CONSIDINE

The Vegetarians Look To 1964

NEW YORK—Dick Nixon, a good man, took his defeat in good grace. He did not join the GOP cry for a recount nor berate those who might have come through for him more strongly. He wished the victor well and promised that his own disappointment and frustration would not interfere with his co-operating with the Kennedy administration on all matters which he considered beneficial to the nation.

The vice president's grace under pressure made us wonder how the other defeated presidential candidates were feeling in the wake of the election. So we rang up one of our favorites, Symon Gould, who headed another losing side, the Vegetarian Party's ticket of himself and his running mate, Dr. Christopher Gian-Cursio, a Miami chiropractor.

"I've sent my message of congratulations to President-elect Kennedy," Dr. Gould, bibliographer of 66 told me briskly. "I congratulated him also on taking one of the planks of my 1948 platform, the one that had to do with forming a Youths Peace Army to 'invade' needy foreign lands with know-how, not guns. And I gave him some much needed advice. I urged him to become a vegetarian in order to keep his health through the difficult years to come."

☆ ☆ ☆

We asked Mr. Gould if he was upset over losing the presidency again. He was defeated twice by President Eisenhower.

"Not at all," he sang out. "I've written to the governors of all 50 states asking them to give me a run-down on the minority voting. In view of the closeness of the race between the leading candidates, I think the minority parties played an unusually important role this time. We're on the move.

"The Kennedy majority in the popular vote is hardly 200,000, but I think the Vegetarian Party polled at least 500,000 this time. After all, there are 3,000,000 vegetarians in this country and I would think most of them voted the straight vegetarian ticket where they could. There's no question that we won converts from both parties and the independents. For example, as a result of my final campaign wind-up — my appearance on CBS — I had 750 requests for the Vegetarian Party's platform.

"It ran my presidential campaign expenses up to nearly $300, but if it did any good, that's all right by me. I assume all campaign expenses."

There has been some discussion in the major parties about the contributions vice presidential candidates Lyndon Johnson and Henry Cabot Lodge made to their tickets. We wondered how Mr. Gould felt about Dr. Gian-Cursio.

"He did an outstanding job," Mr. Gould said. "Especially around Miami. I held up the television and radio side of the campaign. We face the future with confidence. I'll only be 70 in 1964 when we try again. We don't believe in putting an age limit on man. John Maxwell of Los Angeles, our first presidential candidate, is 97 and in fine shape. Why shouldn't he be, he's a vegetarian."

Mr. Gould believes the Vegetarian and such other parties as the Prohibition, Green Back and Socialist-Labor serve the country well. "The two-party system is too limited for this big country," he told us. "We're big enough to be exposed to all sorts of philosophies. It's a pity that we find it so difficult to have our names listed on big city voting machines. We just depend on places where the voters mark their ballots or can write in the candidates of their choice."

Your Four Cents Worth

Helping Hand

Lincoln, Neb.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the young fellow from Ashland who stopped and helped me Saturday noon between Ashland and Gretna when my car stalled. I didn't get his name, but his help was greatly appreciated. I don't know what I would have done if he hadn't stopped, as I was on crutches myself and couldn't start walking to get some assistance.

Oh, yes — many thanks to the "alert" Safety Patrol trooper who cruised right on by me when I was sitting there, stalled. I appreciated that, too!

RUTH JEAN

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

Thanks to The Star for the splendid and obviously effective promotion of the Industrial Development Amendment (IDA) to the Nebraska constitution. IDA's passage reveals that Nebraskans are well aware of the need for more industrial development.

The most important lesson to be derived is that when we work together — when the entire state and its business, labor and professional men really co-operate — we can reach any sound objectives.

We will soon have an additional and much needed tool to improve our economy. Its value, however, depends entirely on how energetically and enthusiastically we use it. We must keep selling Nebraska to the nation and fellow Nebraskans.

I would like to publicly commend my dedicated co-chairman, Charles Uerling, Sr., of Hastings for his untiring efforts.

IDA's passage and the magnificent, diverse statewide co-operation that made it possible is just another strong indication that definitely Nebraska means business.

NATHAN J. GOLD

Lincoln, Neb.

I want to thank The Star reporters for all their time and advice in the recent election. The Star should be commended for its full, fair and complete coverage in this 1960 campaign. The courtesies extended me in my campaign for county judge were most gratifying.

MARSHALL CRITICISM AGAINST HIS OWN INTERESTS—STEEN

M. O. Steen, State Game Commission director, said Wednesday the farm leader who criticized the proposed "chain of lakes" project is working against his own interests.

The leader, Charles Marshall, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, said at a meeting of the group the series of lakes along the Platte Valley segment of the Interstate Highway is "a fine idea," but "Mr. Steen does not concern himself with worrying about where the taxpayer is going to get the money to pay for it."

Replied Steen in a statement:

"I submit that it is Mr. Marshall who doesn't concern himself with where the taxpayer is going to get the money with which to pay taxes.

"If the gentleman would take the trouble to learn the facts, he would discover that the primary objective of our 10-year 'project progress' is to develop a $500 million-a-year industry in Nebraska, an industry which can readily be ours if we go after it.

"Since the average tourist spends about one-third of his money for foodstuffs and related products that must be supplied by agriculture, I suggest that quarterback Marshall is heading his team for the wrong goal post."

Marshall had said that "citizens and taxpayers in admiring the Steen project need to look at the costs involved and ask themselves if they can afford the added taxes. And if this is the most important use which can be made of tax funds."

First Newspaper Mechanical Meet For Mid-U.S. Set

Kansas City (AP) — The first annual Mid-America newspaper mechanical conference has been set for Nov. 8-10, 1961, in Kansas City.

"We hope to have 500 representatives of weeklies and dailies throughout this part of the U.S. at the conference next year," Dorriss said. Newspapers in Iowa, Illinois, Colorado, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Arizona also have expressed interest in taking part.

Recreation Area Contracts Listed

Omaha (AP)—District Army Engineers announced award of two contracts to improve recreation facilities on Lewis and Clark Lake near Yankton, S.D.

R. S. Krage, Sioux City, Ia., was awarded a $14,144 contract to enlarge the Springfield Boat Basin.

Contemplative Benedictine Foundation, Inc., Omaha, to establish in the United States a Contemplative Benedictine Monastery equivalent and similar to that of Abbaye St. Pierre de Solesmes in Sarthe, France, and those of its Solesmes congregation; Edward Kirlin, Henry E. Miller and G. W. Diesing, all of Omaha; non-profit.

HOLIDAY SHOP—THIRD

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

Have been examining the animal kingdom, and can now report that things are going very well.

In St. Louis, a horse named Willy inherited $3500, the tribute of a grateful rider.

In St. Petersburg, Fla., a part Persian cat named Baby scored for $23,000 when the lawyers got around to reading the will. And in Maine, an 8-year-old Maltese sat soberly while the executors informed her she had been bequeathed $2000, a barn and a number of acres of fairly good sheep pasture.

☆ ☆ ☆

No one has left any money to cats in our neighborhood. But since the weather has turned brisk, a few of the woods cats have been sacking out nights on the warm hood of the car. (You can see their paw prints when you go in the garage in the morning.)

I have often wondered how a cat is informed that she has suddenly become rich.

I imagine she is called into the attorney's offices — it would be a rich, four-decker firm: Scofflaw, Scofflaw, Excalibur and Heartburn.

She is ushered into the waiting room, which is tastefully decorated with wall-to-wall carpeting and hunting prints on the wall.

She is then taken into the office of the Senior Scofflaw himself.

"Permit me to extend my condolences for your bereavement," says Mr. Scofflaw. "And now it is my duty and pleasure to inform you that you have it made for 23 grand!"

The lawyer then informs the cat that he is ever at her service. That she should make no rash investments before consulting him (to see if he has anything rasher in his own foxy pocket).

The papers are signed. And the cat goes down and buys a ticket to Florida.

That is the way I imagine it happens.

"The elephant's mind is no more retentive than that of an average dog," said elephant trainer E. P. Gee recently.

Gee had trained an elephant named Lakshmi. Seven years later he stopped off to see the elephant in the London zoo.

"Remember me, Lakshmi?" he said. "Remember your old pal, E. P. Gee?"

Lakshmi just gave him one of those "the face is familiar, but I don't remember the name" looks.

E. P. Gee then made his famous remark about forgetful elephants.

The whole myth of an elephant's-colossal memory was exploded for all time.

HOSIERY — FIRST

Archeologists are trying to find out what happened to Pueblo Indians who vanished from Colorado's Wetherill Mesa section before 1300 A.D.

Equal Consideration Given To West, Says Strobel

Hyannis (UPI) — Western Nebraska has had and will continue to have equal consideration as the state Highway Department's construction program is made out each two years, Deputy State Engineer G. C. Strobel said Wednesday night.

In an address at a meeting of Western Nebraska United Chambers of Commerce, Strobel said the department was recently criticized for not including any projects in the Panhandle in the August letting.

The reason, he added, was that no projects had been scheduled in that letting because all work planned for that area had previously been let to contract with most of it complete or nearing completion.

He said a study of Highway Department projects across the state would show that an equitable distribution of projects is being made throughout the state.

Planning construction of the Interstate differs from the planning that goes into other highways, Strobel said.

He said the state wants to build the Interstate first where the worst highway bottlenecks are and put the super highway to work as soon as possible.

He noted that the first section was in western Nebraska, in Kimball County and that recent work has been concentrated in completing the Omaha-Lincoln segment. The next segment for attention is from North Platte to Grand Island.

Strobel said the state intends to let work on the North Platte-Grand Island section at an increasing pace as plans become available and right-of-way is secured.

"We hope to be able to let work as far west as Kearney in 1960 and probably with present financing can let the last job toward North Platte in 1962," he said.

Garey, Lambert Receive Rodeo $100 Scholarships

The University of Nebraska Rodeo Assn. has awarded $100 scholarships to Angus Garey of Beaver City and John Lambert of Merna. Both are University students.

Garey, the senior scholarship winner, was judged on contribution to Rodeo Assn. activities, scholarship and participation in the annual Nebraska intercollegiate championship rodeo.

Lambert, a freshman, was judged on participation in the State High School Rodeo last spring.

Wahoo Farmer Hurt As Tractor Upsets

SHE'S LOSING WEIGHT FAST WITHOUT HUNGER PANGS

Her stomach doesn't even know she's reducing! New W·R·D Weight Reducing Diet is a delicious drink to the palate and a satisfying meal.

W·R·D is a complete food for reducing. It contains the high-quality protein, the essential vitamins and minerals you need while reducing. It is rich in the Vitamin B_1 that helps minimize the strain of reducing. Actually W·R·D is so satisfying your stomach doesn't even know you're reducing! You do not suffer the incessant craving for rich food that you do on fad diets.

You will lose weight fast when you limit your daily food intake to one can (4 glasses) of W·R·D; one for breakfast, one for lunch, one for dinner, one for a bedtime snack. Total calories only 900! If you wish to lose more slowly, substitute W·R·D for one or two meals (it's wise to make one of them dinner, the high-calorie meal). Or, take W·R·D in place of your regular meals one week, go back to your regular meals the next week.

You don't count, you don't guess, you don't worry about calories. You know you're getting only 900 a day! Less than one-third the national average. Only 225 calories to a meal! Weight loss is virtually automatic!

How fast you should reduce—whether it's 5, 10, 15, or even 20 pounds—is for you and your doctor to decide.

4 servings of W·R·D is all the food you take for reducing... all the food you need... all day!

W·R·D is the weight control food that's so rich and flavor-full it tastes like a milk shake. Chocolate or vanilla flavor.

W·R·D is a true "instant"! Mixes velvet smooth in cold water with just a teaspoon. (Plastic measuring spoon in every can.)

Remember just as surely as fattening meals put weight on, W·R·D low-calorie meals take weight off. And without hunger pangs!

U.N. GROUP READIES STUDY MISSION FOR CONGO

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — A U.N. committee was reported Wednesday night to have set next Tuesday as the date for a conciliation commission to leave for the Congo.

Members of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's 18 nation advisory committee on the Congo said the committee reached that decision at a private meeting.

The commission is made up of the 15 African and Asian members of the committee.

Under a Sept. 20 resolution of the general assembly, its job will be to help rival Congolese politicians settle their differences.

According to instructions previously approved by the committee, it also will try to bring about a new meeting of the Congolese parliament to set up a government with unquestionable authority.

The informants said the advisory committee, at the suggestion of Tunisia, elected cabinet minister Jaja Wachuku of Nigeria temporary chairman of the commission.

The commission then held a meeting of its own to decide procedure for the election Thursday of a chairman, vice chairman and reporter.

Meanwhile, the general assembly headed for a showdown on the seating of Congo President Joseph Kasavubu with the Western powers increasingly hopeful he would win.

A session of the 99-nation assembly appeared likely on Friday to consider the recommendation of its credentials committee that a delegation headed by Kasavubu be given the Congo's vacant seat.

Western diplomats expected that delegates among the Asian-African nations who oppose Kasavubu and favor deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba would try to block assembly action by moving adjournment.

But these diplomats said chances for defeating the adjournment move and winning a seat for Kasavubu were increasing, due mainly to the good impression he made here on African delegates in private talks.

Fulbert Youlou, president of the neighboring Congo Republic Brazzaville, was flying to New York to help Kasavubu in his campaign.

White Men Charged In Rape Case

Yazoo City, Miss. (AP) — Three white men broke into a Negro home near Yazoo City early Wednesday and raped a 42-year-old mother and her 5-year-old daughter, Yazoo County officers reported.

Dist. Atty. Bill Waller said officers arrested 3 men and charged them with rape. The 3, whose names were released late Wednesday were Bobby Smith, 18, Charles Coffey, 20, and his brother, Louis Coffey, 22.

Waller said the men apparently were unarmed when they entered the house, but committed the rapes after threatening the family.

Waller said the 3 broke into the house about 2 a.m. after 3 teen-aged children fled, one man forced the mother outside to a car and the child was attacked in the house.

"The hospital says the child definitely was raped," Waller said. "She's in a pretty bad way and we can't get a clear story from her yet."

Both the mother and daughter were examined at University Hospital in Jackson and the child was hospitalized.

Waller said one man was arrested about daybreak in the car with the Negro woman and another was picked up on a highway near the house about an hour later. The third was caught later in the day.

Waller said the names of the 3 Yazoo County men were not released immediately because of the racial aspects of the case.

"We're being cautious," he said. "These things are touchy."

The 3 were held without bond. In Mississippi, rape carries only two penalties, life imprisonment or death.

'Tools' To Help Make Decisions On College Needs Partly Ready

By Virgil Falloon

State Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings Wednesday opened the meeting of the Legislative Council with a partial report on the projected needs of institutions of higher learning in Nebraska through 1970.

The report, authorized by the 1959 Legislature and costing $25,000, is the first overall, comprehensive study of its kind undertaken in the state.

Marvel, chairman of the Legislative Council Study Committee on Higher Education, told the state senators the purpose of the report is "to provide tools you can use to make decisions on the needs of higher education in the state."

'Provide Standards'

He said the report would provide standards which the legislators could use to judge budgets, programs and basic structures of the state's higher education institutions.

Marvel presented 3 of 6 staff reports to the lawmakers. These were on college enrollments, economic prospects of the state, and the faculties of the colleges and universities.

Still to come are the reports on building utilization, student affairs and school programs.

Marvel said two more meetings are scheduled before the final report and recommendations are made after the Legislature convenes in January.

He said the December meeting would deal with the final recommendations to be submitted by the director of the study, Dr. Lyman A. Glenny of Sacramento State College in California.

All Higher Education

The study includes the state's junior colleges, the teachers colleges and the University of Nebraska. Marvel said 22 institutions, including private schools, cooperated in the study.

Marvel touched briefly on these highlights in the completed study:

—Projected 1970 enrollment of the 22 higher education institutions in the state is 35,038 students compared with the 1960 of 20,850.

—At a projected rate, Nebraska's 1970 per capital tax burden will be $74.49 compared with 1959's $58.54 and a national average of $90.29.

—Nebraska's total tax revenue per capita is less than the U.S. average and less than any neighboring state, hence the state is in a better position (economically if not psychologically) to increase the tax burden if the need arises.

Acceptance Deferred

Acceptance action on the higher education report was deferred until it is completed in January.

In other action, the Council accepted the study reports of the Committee on the Budget, headed by Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln, and Committee on Brand Inspection Areas, headed by Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton.

Coming up Thursday and Friday are 13 more committee reports on subjects ranging from taxation to labor practices and the penal system to election laws.

Many of the reports contain specific recommendations for bills to be passed next year.

The biennial meeting of the Council—the Legislature itself—is to accept the study reports authorized on urgent problems of government by the Legislature in its 1959 session.

Frontier Seeking Federal Route Dispute Jurisdiction

Attornies for Frontier Airlines are asking the U.S. District Court to take jurisdiction over the controversy between the State of Nebraska and the airlines over its southern Nebraska route.

A Frontier petition on file Wednesday in Federal Court seeks removal of the injunction action pending in Lancaster County District Court to the federal court.

Last Oct. 26, Nebraska obtained a temporary order from the state court restraining Frontier from cutting back service to one round-trip daily from two between Lincoln and Sidney with intermediate stops at Hastings, Kearney, McCook and Imperial.

Frontier has proposed the cutback for Nov. 1, but continued service under the temporary restraining order.

In seeking federal jurisdiction, Frontier alleges the controversy exceeds $10,000 and involves diversity of citizenship. Frontier is incorporated under Nevada laws. Its principle office is at Denver, Colo.

Frontier had attempted to block the anticipated state action by an earlier federal court petition seeking to restrain the State Railway Commission and State Aeronautics Department from "interfering" with the airlines' operations.

Frontier contends the southern route is interstate and under federal jurisdiction, while Nebraska claims state jurisdiction as an intrastate route.

NU Moot Court Competition To Begin Thursday

Soviet Designations Demanded By U.S.

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) —The United States put the Soviet Union on the spot Wednesday by demanding it produce a formal list of the countries it would designate as "socialist," "neutralist" and "Western" under its proposed 3-bloc reorganization of the United Nations.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt, chief U.S. representative in the General Assembly's Budget Committee, said the world would be awaiting the Russian reply "with considerable interest."

"By what right does the Soviet Union arbitrarily divide the countries of the world into 3 groups?" Aiken asked. "We have always felt that it was for all nations to decide for themselves what views, positions and alliances were and should be."

The white-haired senator, delivering one of the most sweeping attacks on Russian U.N. policy yet voiced by an American delegate this session, accused Russia directly of seeking world domination and referred to its 8 East European Allies as "echo chambers."

Just before Aiken spoke, Soviet Delegate Alexei A. Roshchin warned that the "faulty structure of the U.N. Secretariat" was a direct obstacle to agreements in all critical field of international relations, including joint economic aid programs and disarmament.

"The refusal to solve this problem is fraught with grave consequences," Roschin said. "Not only will the United Nations be unable to promote the positive solution of major international problems but it will itself become an obstacle in the way to their solution and will itself generate problems and conflicts."

Aiken said the Soviet plan for a tri-partite division of the U.N. Secretariat — first presented by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev during his visit here—was in actuality an attempt "to project the cold war into the future."

"Does it not mean the Soviet government sees no possibility of an accord between the 'socialist' countries and the 'Western' countries?" Aiken said. "The Soviet government can be so sure of its projection of the future only if it is certain that it will make no effort to accommodate the views of the nations which it considers Western or neutral."

Aiken said if the Soviet plan ever should be adopted it was certain to lead to chaos and the eventual destruction of the world peace organization.

Havana (AP)—The Japanese freighter Taiten Maru arrived with 14,717 crates of Japanese toys for Christmas. The toys are imports to be sold in Cuban stores. Newspapers said more toys are due from the Soviet Union and communist Czechoslovakia.

Female British Reporter Calls Rioting Arrest Ludicrous

New Orleans (AP) — "Really, now, the idea of someone my size assaulting two police officers," piped British correspondent Joyce Egginton Wednesday. "It's just ludicrous."

However, charges of assault on arresting officers went on the books against Miss Egginton, arrested during the demonstrations of teen-agers against New Orleans public school integration.

Miss Egginton, 34-year-old New York correspondent for the London Daily Herald, also faces charges of reviling the police, resisting arrest and refusing to move on.

"The whole thing is just--well, it's fantastic," Miss Egginton said in an interview.

"Let's take it step-by-step.

"I was standing in front of city hall between the hundreds of demonstrators and a line of police at the top of the steps.

"I was with a group of reporters. We asked the officers if we could go to the top of the steps and they said it would be all right.

"I was the last in the group to pass through and one of the policemen at the bottom of the stairs — he didn't even hear us ask to move up — grabbed me by the arm.

"I told him I was an accredited reporter and could produce my credentials.

"He said he wasn't interested in any credentials and shoved me in the paddy wagon and locked the door."

Off she went to the station, she said, booked on the charges and "put into the cage."

"Then the officer at the desk asked if I could identify myself and I produced my New York press cards," she said.

"I was told I would have to put up $100 or get someone to vouch for my parole," she continued. "The city editor of the Times-Picayune identified me and I was released."

A court appearance is scheduled for 9 a.m. Thursday.

Miss Egginton, a newspaperwoman for 17 years and stationed in New York for 3, got up to leave as a newsman asked if she would fight the charges.

"Am I?" she replied. "I'm on my way to get a lawyer now."

The International Association of Fire Chiefs predicts fire losses in the United States for 1960 will total more than $1,072,000,000, a new record.

Actor Gavin On His Way To The Top

By Joe Finnigan

Hollywood (UPI) — Actor John Gavin is on his way to top starring roles in pictures after overcoming the false reputation of a rich young man treating a movie career lightly.

"Some people have inferred from what I have said in the past I'm a rich boy, which I'm not, and that I'm doing this for a lark," said the handsome Gavin, also denying the latter.

Criticizing the way Hollywood goes about building a star, John said there doesn't seem to be any such thing as a fellow from the middle class working in pictures.

"Apparently you're either born in poverty and gloriously rise above it," he said, "or else you're enormously wealthy."

Gavin thinks his educational background gave rise to the misconceptions about his wealth.

"The fact that I went to a nice prep school and then to Stanford University had something to do with it," he said. "I went to Stanford on a scholarship. I guess my father could have sent me there, but the fact remains I went on a scholarship.

"I have been on my own ever since I got commissioned in the Navy. I never came into an estate or anything like that."

There was a time not too long ago when Gavin almost chucked movies in favor of a law career.

"I decided to stay after I became aware of what I was doing," John explained. "I don't want to be mediocre and I'm conceited enough to think I can be good in this business. But I really hope it's nothing as silly as conceit that makes me say that."

Gavin has often been compared to Rock Hudson, also under contract to Universal-International but John doesn't buy the comparison.

"I don't hear that as much as I used to," he said good naturedly. "I wish they wouldn't compare us because I can't help but come off second best."

Claims Are Booming

Washington (UPI) — Mineral-rich Utah is in the middle of another boom — this time an all-out quest for beryllium. A report from Beryllium International Corp. notes that the firm has acquired 10 beryllium claims in Utah's Topax Mountain area. The claims reportedly total 1,900 acres and have attracted interest from a number of other firms. It wasn't long ago that uranium fever swept the West with Utah in the center of it all.

Dean Pizer Closes 20-Year Chapter Of Service, But Opens Book Again

By Don Walton

Harry Leon Pizer — dean of the Nebraska Legislature and its most skilled wit — is bidding farewell to 20 historic years of legislative endeavor this week.

Or, at least he thought he was.

Pizer, Speaker of the 1959 Legislature, did not seek re-election to what would have been an 11th term.

The 3-day session of the Legislative Council now meeting in Lincoln was, therefore, to be his final encore.

Now, however, it appears that Pizer may have one last fling as presiding officer of an unprecedented second special session of 1960, which may be called next month.

Pizer, 62-year-old North Platte realtor and master comic, chatted Wednesday with The Star after hearing a farewell tribute from the Legislature voiced by Sen. Don Thompson of McCook.

What does Harry Pizer offer in the way of advice to freshman senators entering their first term?

"Learn where the telephones and restrooms are located."

Backing off from that quick thrust, we asked: Why did you decide not to seek another term?

"I decided I had better quit while I was ahead."

So did I, but — dodging once again: What did you tell the National Conference of Legislative Leaders in Chicago last week as Nebraska's sole representative?

"I kidded them."

Serious Vein

Switching to a serious vein, Pizer tossed rich praise at the Cornhusker State's unique unicameral legislative experiment:

"The Unicameral system has proved itself," the Speaker noted.

"It has placed on its members the responsibility due the citizens of the state.

"Its non-partisan feature is outstanding.

"For, after all, good legislation is a matter of business and compromise."

Both Systems

That tribute comes from a man who has served both in the two-house and unicameral systems.

Pizer was first elected to the old House of Representatives in 1935, then elected to the Unicameral in 1937.

In addition to those two terms, he has served in every session since 1945.

Service in 5 special sessions is also a part of the Pizer record.

Serious advice to the new senators: "Do not be panicked. Listen, and do very little talking until you know your subject and your way around."

Serious observations on the legislative leaders conference: "They agreed that Nebraska state government is the best for the dollar value returned."

Cost Light

Cost of legislation in this state, Pizer said, is comparatively light. For instance, total cost in 1959 (including salaries) was about $250,000.

Pizer has served as a member of all legislative committees except judiciary and revenue.

He was chairman of the Committee on Committees twice, and once chairman of the Legislative Council.

Looking back on that remarkable record of service, Pizer bade farewell:

"I am grateful to the many courtesies shown to me by the members of the press, radio and television; to the senators, all the help at the Statehouse and state officers.

"And, I am especially grateful to the people of the 38th District for electing me to 10 sessions."

Lawyer 'Not Enough For New Judge'

The Executive Committee of the Lancaster County Bar Association agreed Wednesday that the new Juvenile Court judge should be more "than just a lawyer."

They listed 5 necessary qualifications for a potential candidate:

—he should have demonstrated legal ability.

—he should have a judicial temperament (i.e., he should have the ability to make decisions and have a willingness to assume responsibility in legal matters).

—he should have administrative ability.

—he should have community interest and interest in the problems of youth.

—he should have an awareness and respect for other areas of professional competency and be willing to work to marshal the efforts of other agencies.

President Chauncey Barney will represent the association when it is asked to attend meetings on the Juvenile Court issue.

The committee is expected to submit a list of qualified lawyers that would be acceptable as Juvenile Court judge to the governor early next week.

Wesso Named To 2 Chamber Posts

Hyannis (AP) — Fred Wesso of Rushville was elected district 6 vice president Wednesday at an organization meeting of the Nebraska state Chamber of Commerce.

Later at a meeting of the Western Nebraska United Chambers of Commerce, Wesso was elected president of that group. Vice president is Russ Hodge of Scottsbluff. They will be installed at a January meeting in Chadron.

Mrs. Cox Gets Children Service Post At Library

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Cox of Redwood Falls, Minn., has assumed duties as co-ordinator of children's services for the Lincoln City Libraries.

According to Asst. City Library Director Don Wright, Mrs. Cox is receiving orientation on Lincoln's main and branch library system.

In recent years, banks have been offering more and more services to the public. In an effort to provide information about these services, they've been steadily increasing their advertising expenditures in all advertising media. However, an American Bankers Association study shows that in 1959, more banks were using the daily newspaper as their No. 1 means of communicating with their customers than were using any other medium.

Science At Work

By The Associated Press

Cotton plants which starve their enemy pests; signals from Jupiter, and sharper creases in wool clothes figure in current science and technology:

Starvation Warfare

In warfare against insects, scientists are trying to take the honeypot out of cotton fields.

Nectar produced by cotton plants is a favorite food of some destructive pests. The goal of plant geneticists is to produce cotton plants which produce nectar only during their brief flowering time, and not during the rest of the season.

Then, they hope, pests which like nectar will have to seek out other plants, and will not lay their eggs on cotton, producing voracious larvae. U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists have developed some promising cotton strains which produce only floral nectar, and just on the days when flowers bloom.

Climate To Order

Arctic cold, desert heat, tropical storms—any kind of climate made to order—will be available in a $1.5 million biotron being built at the university of Wisconsin.

The biotron will be a laboratory with rooms which can create and maintain the environments of many spots on earth. The purpose is to study the influence of environment on many aspects of growth, development and behavior of both plants and animals. The laboratory will incorporate the latest methods of controlling temperature, humidity, air filtration and sound.

Jupiter's Signals

Jupiter radiates radio signals or noises which can be recorded on earth.

Some of these signals come in intense but sporadic bursts. Guesses about their cause include lightning discharges, volcanic explosions, chemical reactions in the Jovian atmosphere, and charged particles from the sun, especially after solar flares, which create storms producing radio noise.

Hang The Humidity

Creases or pleats in wool slacks and skirts which last longer in rainy or humid weather are promised by Department of Agriculture research. Scientists found the trick was to spray or dip the fabric in a solution of ethanolamine, with a little detergent added to facilitate wetting. Then the damp fabric is steam-pressed.

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—The text of President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving Day Proclamation:

By the President of the United States of America

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas it has long been our custom as a people to pause from our labors for one day at the close of the harvest season and give special thanks to Almighty God for the bounty which he has bestowed upon our land; and

Whereas again this year we have been blessed with an abundant harvest; and

Whereas it is fitting and appropriate at this time of national thanksgiving that we should remember and respond to the needs of those of other lands; and

Whereas the Congress of the United States, by a joint resolution approved December 26, 1941 (55 Stat. 862; 5 U.S.C. 87B), has designated the fourth Thursday of November in each year as Thanksgiving Day;

Now, therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, in consonance with the aforesaid resolution of Congress, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 24, 1960, as a day of national thanksgiving; and I urge the people of the United States to give grateful thought to the observance of this day.

Furthermore, I call upon our people, while giving thanks for our blessings, to direct their thoughts to the peoples of other lands less fortunate than we. In particular, I urge my fellow Americans to support and assist the efforts which we as a nation, working individually and in co-operation with other nations, are directing toward the solution of the world-food problem.

Under our food-for-peace program, a distinguished company of voluntary citizens' groups and religious societies in making heart-warming contributions to this effort. I ask our people to give them continued support.

At the same time, I urge my fellow Americans to assist in the freedom-from-hunger campaign of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization. Our government fully supports the objectives of this organization. But success of its campaign requires the active co-operation of generous citizens, and of public and private groups, in our country and around the world.

Let us hope that some day, under a benevolent Providence and through the best use of the world's God-given resources, each nation will have reason to celebrate its own Thanksgiving Day.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 11th day of November year of our Lord nineteen hundred and sixty, and of the independence of the United States of America the one-hundred and eighty-fifth.

Whooping Crane Population Is Up

Washington (UPI) — The whooping crane population is on the rise.

The Interior Department reported Wednesday a new record for whooping crane numbers was established when 36 of the almost-extinct birds were counted on and in the vicinity of the Arkansas National Wild Life Refuge on the Texas gulf coast.

There were 25 adult and 5 juvenile whoopers counted on the refuge and 5 adults and one juvenile on nearby Matagorda and St. Joseph Islands. This is the largest number reported since systematic counts of the crane population were started in 1938. The previous record was 34 in 1949.

The department said 3 birds from last spring's flock still are unaccounted for. Ample time remains for these birds to put in their appearance, as stragglers have checked in as late as mid-December.

With the new wild population at 36, the number of known whoopers in the world now is 42. There are 6 in captivity—5 in New Orleans and one in San Antonio.

New Type Disguise

London (AP)—President-elect Janio Quadros of Brazil shaved off his mustache. He hopes it will give him a little privacy around here. Pictures in the papers showing him with the mustache made him so widely known that crowds followed him everywhere. He said he hopes now he can elude so much public attention.

Christmas Trees Move

Berkeley, Calif. (UPI) — Sale of Christmas trees in California totals $14 million a year. More than 3 million trees are sold each season, reports the Agricultural Extension Service.

Foreign Aid Hiked

Bonn, Germany (AP) — The West German cabinet formally approved an increased foreign aid program informed sources estimated at 4 billion marks (nearly $1 billion).

Disease Spreads

London (AP) — Foot and mouth disease spread through England and Scotland, leaving a trail of thousands of slaughtered cattle, sheep and pigs.

Historic Dud

Oklahoma City (AP) — The Oklahoma Historical Society owns an oil well. It was donated by a firm which felt the well would be of interest to visitors. It is not a producer.

The Ultimate Weapon

The ultimate weapon may not be the hydrogen bomb. It may be paper bullets, the kind the Communists have been firing in a deadly barrage at a hungry world, starved for learning. These bullets are books—billions of them—text books, novels, exquisite art books. And they're not all propaganda.

Legislative Council

Expense Controls Offered

By Betty Person

The Legislative Council Committee on the Budget, whose membership is comprised of legislators who serve on the standing Budget Committee, has made the following recommendations for improving the control of expenditures of certain state agencies and speeding budget considerations by the Legislature:

1. It is recommended that the Board of Control, which now submits its budget for institutions under its jurisdiction in a lump sum, be directed to list not only the amount requested by the Board itself, but the amounts requested by each institution including the estimated needs in each category of expenditure.

The committee also has asked that superintendents of each institution be present at regular committee hearings on their budgets.

In connection with the Board, the committee suggests that the 1961 Budget Committee give "careful consideration" to salary increases for guards and other custodial personnel at the state's penal institutions.

2. A recommendation that the State Racing Commission, which does not now submit a biennial budget request, be directed to submit a request the same as all other state agencies giving legislative control over its expenditures.

3. In a far-reaching recommendation affecting those agiencies with major cash fund accounts, the committee recommends that cash appropriations be returned to the agency on a basis of "fixed" or "not to exceed" amounts whenever possible.

Cash funds now are appropriated back to the agency on an "estimated" basis, allowing the agency to spend all it takes in, and there is often a sizeable increase in the amount actually taken in over the amount estimated.

The committee has recommended also that cash accounts be replaced with "general fund accounts" if the Budget Committee believes it desirable. Thus agencies' cash accounts would go directly to the closely controlled, property tax-supported general fund from which they would be specifically appropriated.

4. It is recommended that the Budget Committee and the Legislature "carefully investigate the merits of each new federal service proposed as well as the ones now in progress, and fully familiarize itself with the purposes, history, initial cast to the state and the cost of maintenance thereof before voting on such service."

5. A recommendation that the present practice of bracketing revenue and appropriation bills in the Legislature until near the end of the session be abolished, and that such measures be given priority both in committee and on general file (first floor consideration.)

Also that bills which will produce revenue state clearly in which fund or funds the money will be deposited, and which agency will have use of the funds, and that introducers of bills involving appropriations be required to furnish the committee with estimates of the amount of money required.

6. It was recommended that the budget bill ear mark funds when there is any doubt about their being used for the purpose for which they were intended.

Committee members: Sens. Otto Liebers of Lincoln, chairman; A. A. Fenske of Sinol; Richard D. Marvel of Hastings; William Moulton of Omaha; Harry Pizer of North Platte; Harold Stryker of Rising City; David Tews of Norfolk, and Don Thompson of McCook.

Just As Good

St. Paul, Minn. (UPI)—The price difference between white and brown eggs has no real foundation, says the Minnesota State Medical Association. One is just as nutritious as the other, and it's merely a matter of pigmentation in the shell.

Attempt Slated To Bring Back Safety Council

An attempt will be made Thursday to reactivate the Lincoln-Lancaster Safety Council which has been inactive since August when Gifford Mullins, director of the group, resigned.

The meeting has been slated by the Safety Coordinating Committee of the Lincoln Community Council.

According to Coordinating Committee Chairman Lester Jensen, a city the size of Lincoln needs its own safety council to lend a hand to organizations which want it and to determine plans of operation in combating the growing number of accidents.

The Leedy Survey which was an evaluation of Lincoln's safety picture taken in 1957-58, will be discussed at the Thursday meeting in addition to the reactivation.

Israeli Officials Firmly Against 'Lynch' Justice

Tel Aviv, Israel (UPI) — Israeli government officials are firm in their determination not to yield to public pressure for a short "lynch" trial for former Nazi Col. Adolf Eichmann.

Eichmann, 54, was seized by Israeli agents in Buenos Aires, Argentina last May and brought to Israel for trial on charges of murdering 6 million Jews in wartime Europe. His trial has been set for next spring, and he faces the death penalty if convicted.

His seizure under cloak and dagger circumstances ended a 15-year search by Israelis and triggered an international incident between Israel and Argentina.

No Doubt

Many Israelis contend there is no doubt of Eichmann's guilt and there is no reason for a long and expensive trial. Find him guilty and hang him with as little delay as possible, they say. Some newspapers concur in this view.

But Attorney General Gideon Hauser told a recent news conference that "public opinion must understand that if we want to put Eichmann on trial, and not lynch him," all possible legal assistance must be provided him.

Without legal aid, Hauser said, the trial would be "a parody, a caricature."

Choice Granted

Eichmann already has been granted his choice of defense counsel, and the attorney he chose, German Dr. Robert Servatius, a specialist in war crimes cases, has begun work on the case here.

The controversy now revolves around Servatius' request for a top Israeli lawyer to help him in preparing his case and in the actual trial defense.

Hauser says Servatius must have the help of an attorney familiar with Israeli law and trial practice if he is to defend Eichmann properly.

Divided

Israeli lawyers, however, are sharply divided on the question. Some contend no Jewish lawyer with a good conscience could help Eichmann after the crimes he is accused of. Others agree with the government that a fair trial is necessary no matter what the background.

The argument even reached the Israeli radio which staged a broadcast debate among lawyers on the subject.

The newspaper Haaretz called the argument "confused."

The newspaper contended that since everyone knew Eichmann was guilty, there was no need at all for a trial.

Not Formal

It noted that Eichmann was kidnaped from Argentina and taken to Israel without formal extradition proceedings.

"The fact that the world has accepted the uprecedented way in which Eichmann was brought to Israel proves that everyone recognizes that customary legal concepts cannot be applied in this case," it said.

But Hauser, a 45-year old Polish-born Jew, is preparing the prosecution case on the assumption that Eichmann will be given all the protection Israeli law provides."

New Year Economy To Be At About '60 Levels

. . . Steel, Auto Industries Still Point Down

Washington (AP)—The government, issuing its first 1961 business forecast Wednesday, significantly based it on the assumption that the economy in the new year "will remain at about 1960 levels."

At the same time, the Federal Reserve Board announced that a slump in industrial production was halted in October. However, the board noted that the bellwether steel and auto industries were pointing downward in November.

The first 1961 outlook summary was issued by the Commerce Department and dealt with prospects for the construction industry. It had been awaited with some eagerness because of its revelation of current department thinking on the likely economic environment in the coming year.

With the economy in a slack period, and with some economists foreseeing a recession this winter, the forecast had its optimistic side.

For one thing, the department predicted that total construction outlays will increase about 4% in 1961 to a record $57.3 billion. However, the report contained a hint that prospects for the first 6 months of the year aren't that rosy.

Modest Gain Foreseen

The department said it looks for 1,300,000 private housing starts in 1961, compared with about 1,255,000 this year. However, it said this "assumes a strong recovery in the second half of 1961."

In a separate report, the Federal Reserve Board said industrial production was unchanged in October after dropping a bit in September. It cited a number of offsetting developments which held total output to 7% above the 1957 average, but 3% below the average for the first half of 1960.

At the same time the board said auto and steel production were declining this month. This suggested that the November production report, when issued, may show another drop.

Frontier Told Columbus Is Ready Now

Frontier Airlines has been notified it should start service to Columbus on the northern route through Nebraska because of completion of $220,000 in improvements to handle its twin-engine planes.

Walter J. Kreuscher, state airport engineer acting as Aeronautics Department director, said Wednesday the airline will have to set up some facilities of its own at Columbus, and it is difficult to tell this early how soon the actual service will begin.

No reply to the notification has been received from Frontier. The notification was sent to the airline's Denver offices by the state's attorneys in Washington.

The airport improvement projects were started after Columbus was placed on Frontier's northern route by the Civil Aeronautics Board late in 1958 at the close of the "7 States Case." The airline has been allowed to skip the city, however, because of safety reasons.

The improvement projects, including an extended, paved runway and lighting facilities, were paid for with 50% federal funds, about 20% state funds, and the remainder local funds.

Since 1958

Frontier has been serving the northern route since 1958, starting first with interim permission because of the suspension of railroad service across northern Nebraska. Other cities on the route include Omaha, Lincoln, Norfolk, Valentine, Ainsworth and Chadron.

De Gaulle Wants Voters To Decide On Algeria

Paris (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle announced Wednesday he is going to submit to French voters a plan for a new system of government for rebellious Algeria.

The new system would prevail, a Cabinet announcement said, until Algerians themselves decided their own future in a subsequent vote under de Gaulle's already propounded doctrine of self-determination. Autonomy for Algeria appears to be the end in view.

De Gaulle's action Wednesday had been expected, and there have been predictions that any referendum will go the way he wants it to. But Wednesday's developments may touch off explosions among European settlers of Algeria, who want the African territory to remain part of France.

Breaking some of the secrecy shrouding his deliberations on the thorny problem, de Gaulle told a Cabinet meeting that "at the appropriate time" he will ask the nation's approval of a new system of government in Algeria.

The Cabinet itself was asked to draft the text of this new provisional Constitution, and to prepare for the referendum. Spokesman said it is up to the Cabinet to decide whether voters in Algeria will also be able to participate in this referendum, or whether the vote will be restricted to metropolitan France.

Technically, Algeria is now part of France and participates in all national elections. But the Cabinet could rule that public order was too troubled in Algeria to permit voting.

The Cabinet announcement did not mention local autonomy. But de Gaulle in his Nov. 4 radio-TV address to the nation spoke of an eventual Algerian republic. And he said the Algerian administration must henceforth be completely in the hands of Algerians—the so-called Algerian Algeria which has become his goal.

The cabinet is expected to call the referendum for mid-January.

Smithsonian Will Display Space Flier

Washington (UPI) — The late space monkey Able and the capsule that was her home in space go on display in the Smithsonian Institution's air museum Friday.

Able, a 7-pound Rhesus, died shortly after her historic journey to space and back again in a Jupiter nose cone last May 8. Officials decided to preserve her for the display.

Army doctors said Able died of natural causes, and not from effects of the flight.

Baker, a one-pound Squirrel monkey that went along on the ride but in a separate compartment of the capsule, is alive and healthy. Baker's space capsule will be a part of the display.

Dr. Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the Smithsonian, accepted the stuffed Able and the capsules from Lt. Gen. J. H. Hinrichs, Chief of Army Ordnance.

Able is strapped into the contour chair that protected her from 9 minutes of weightlessness and nearly 40 times the normal force of gravity during the 1,500-mile flight toward the cosmos.

Both monkeys rode in capsules that provided army scientists with information on the effect of rocket travel on America's first man in space.

Actress Peppered In Nightclub Fight

Rome (UPI) — The pepper flew in a Rome restaurant in the climax to a battle of words involving actress Linda Christian, actor Edmund Purdom and his estranged wife, Alicia Barr.

The incident sent Miss Barr, a honey-blonde actress, to the hospital for treatment for painfully peppered eyes.

The argument started in a La Fontanella Restaurant where Miss Christian and her escort, Purdom, ran into Miss Barr who has been involved in a number of heated exchanges with her estranged mate.

Miss Barr claimed Purdom made an insulting remark to her as she passed his table. Heated words followed and soon someone was tossing pepper.

Police said it was not known who tossed the pepper. Miss Barr, released from the hospital after treatment, threatened to sue Miss Christian

Legislative Council

State Brand Inspection Requests In

By Betty Person

The Legislative Council Committee on Brand Inspection Areas recommended the following legislation and administrative steps as solutions to controversial proposals to change area boundaries and enforcement of cattle brand laws:

1. Amend the present law to provide that legal brands shall be only those which are burned into an animal's hide with a hot iron, thus outlawing the use of acid brands which reportedly become indistinguishable after a time.

2. Enact legislation which would authorize, but not require, that sales barns in counties adjacent to, but outside the inspection area, provide brand inspection for all cattle brought to such sales barns from the inspection area.

In this connection it also was recommended that receipts from such optional inspection be averaged over a period of not less than 6 months, and if the per diem costs and mileage for inspectors are larger than the inspection receipts, then the sales barn operators must guarantee the deficit.

3. Recommended that the seller be added to the list of those liable for the inspection of cattle prior to their being transported out of the brand area.

The committee said a trucker now is often the only one fined when a violation is found simply because the cattle are found in his possession, and truckers contend they should not be obligated to prove the ownership of goods they carry.

4. Recommended that the Nebraska Brand Committee continue negotiations with the Department of Roads relative to placement of highway signs signifying that one is leaving the brand inspection area. Also that the committee take steps to provide further information to those affected by brand inspection laws, and that more inspectors be provided at such times and places as conditions require.

Committee members: Sens. J. W. Burbach of Crofton, chairman; Jack Romans of Ord; John G. Donner of Elgin; George Gerdes of Alliance; Dwain Williams of Broken Bow; Earl Hollenbeck of Long Pine, and John Aufenkamp of Julian.

Sheep Planted

Helena, Mont. (UPI) — The largest plant of Rocky Mountain big horn sheep yet made in Montana has been completed by the State Fish and Game Department. With the release of 34 head in the Stickney Creek-Sheep Creek area the total was brought to 57. They were trapped from the National Bison Range at Moiese.

Discoverer 17 Carried Microscopic Artificially Grown Human Cells Aloft

Inglewood, Calif. (UPI) — The orbiting Discoverer 17 carried microscopic artificially grown human cells bacteria and vegetation successfully retrieved in a spectacular aerial catch of the satellite capsule, the Air Force disclosed Wednesday.

The experiments were expected to provide vital knowledge on environment for putting a man into space.

The Air Force Ballistic Missile Division also confirmed that for the first time, the Agena B engine powering the satellite was restarted while the Discoverer was in orbit.

Maj. Gen. O. J. Ritland, BMD commander, called the test the most successful in the history of the Discoverer program. It was the third time a Discoverer capsule has been recovered, but the first time the Air Force confirmed such a vehicle carried such biological experiments.

There has been speculation a monkey will go aloft in a Discoverer capsule within about a month, although previous plans for such an undertaking were postponed.

An Air Force C119 cargo plane snared the 300-pound capsule from Discoverer 17 on Monday after the satellite traveled more than a million miles on 31 passes over the earth's poles.

Ritland said the experiments carried in Discoverer 17 capsule included:

—a microscopic, artificially grown human cells bacteria, micro-organisms and plant spore flown for the school of aviation medicine. Following removal from the capsule at Sunnyvale, Calif., the experiments were transported to the school of Aviation Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base, Tex., for examination by Dr. George W. Crawford and Dr. Irvin Davis.

—an emulsion pack carried for the Air Force's Cambridge Research Laboratory, at Cambridge, Mass., to explore radiation in the lower ranges of the Van Allen Belt. This data was returned to Dr. Herman Yagoda at Cambridge for further study.

—a radiation counter.

—a high intensity light beacon carried to check the accuracy of the transit navigational system. At least 4 photographic tracking stations of the U.S. Moonwatch teams and the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory photographed the light as the satellite orbitted the earth, the BMD announcement said.

Ritland said in describing restarting of the Agena B engine, it was the first time for such an undertaking under the conditions of space vacuum. Earlier the fuel system was pressurized so the engine was started under sea level conditions.

UNDER HOUSE ARREST

Herman, the cat who has created a bit of fuss, seems to voice his disapproval at being kept in the house at the Russell Bowler home in Alameda, Calif., Wednesday, where a court action was filed to restrain the cat's prowling. The Bowlers are defendants in a suit brought by the Howard Cook family, who raise Siamese cats, and claim Herman is a nuisance to their felines.

Camp Fire Girls Give Nature Hand At Pioneers

By Gerry Deal

"The World Around Her—She Cares—Do You?"

This slogan of the Camp Fire Girls Golden Jubilee was exemplified Wednesday as Lincoln Camp Fire Girls planted the second "Camp Fire Girls Tree" in Pioneers Park.

As a part of their tree project, the first tree was planted in 1959, and another will be planted next April.

"As the trees grow, it is the hope that the Camp Fire Girls will continue to grow and to give their service and time to the community in which they live," Mrs. Max Schuster, chairman of the two-year tree project said.

According to Park Supt. Jim Ager, the girls have saved his department many man hours and much money by conducting a tree census last spring of all elm trees on city streets and marking on maps the location of each live or dead elm tree.

A Safeguard

Many of the dead trees have been removed, Ager said. "In case Dutch Elm Disease should reach Lincoln it is important to know the location of all elm trees," he added.

The survey, conducted by 1,100 Camp Fire Girls and 69 leaders, showed Lincoln has 25,886 elm trees located on city right-of-ways.

However, the Park Department's preliminary estimate of elm trees along right-of-ways was 50,000.

Due to this noticeable difference in figures, Ager said it was necessary for the Park Dept. to make a spot check.

This proved the girls' survey "to be very accurate and consequently has been very helpful in aiding the department in planning and making estimated costs of a citywide spray program for tree diseases and insect controls," Ager pointed out.

Members of the tree project committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Schuster, are Walter Bagley, Don Gudmundson, Mrs. L. E. Liebers, Mrs. Herbert Casey, Mrs. Robert Cohen, Dorothy Bredemeyer, Dr. Max Schuster, and Ager.

Sun's Antics Give NU's Monitors 'Exciting Time'

Prof. Robert Chasson of the University reports that solar activity has given the university's cosmic ray monitoring system "an exciting time" for the past several days.

During that time sunspawned magnetic storms have caused one of the worst communications tie-ups in history, because the magnetic changes disrupt long-distance radio communication.

Prof. Chasson said the cosmic ray intensity at the university's monitoring station jumped suddenly about 25% last Saturday for a short time, and then jumped 70% above normal for a time. Then the storm caused a drop about 15% below normal, of the sort which usually takes aays to recover, but Tuesday the equipment showed about a 30% jump, putting the activity above normal.

The changes in cosmic ray activity are "the largest I've ever seen," Chasson said, and he added that these were very important scientifically because with such intense activity it should be possible to get a much better idea of the nature of distribution of particles thrown off during solar disruptions.

Small Penetration

Chasson said the increases shown here were especially significant because only a very small part of particles thrown off during sunspot activities ever penetrate the earth's atmosphere. He said a colleague in Minnesota had reported to him that balloons 100 miles up had shown cosmic ray activity 150 times normal during the solar phenomena.

The university's station is one of 20 or 30 around the world measuring cosmic ray activity, and it has just received a 3-year grant from the National Science Foundation to continue operation. The NU station is one of many set up during the International Geophysical Year.

Prof. Chasson said the cosmic ray increases should cause "no biological worries," because the intensity even above average is many times below the level that could be harmful to man.

It's No Rose, But Dandelion Taunts Weather

One fair weather flower in Lincoln just doesn't feel like leaving yet.

Mrs. William Long of 4915 South Street has discovered a dandelion still in bloom in her yard, withstanding frosts, nippy weather and all.

According to Dr. W. W. Ray, chairman of the Botany Department at the University of Nebraska, the dandelion is womewhat of an unusual one. Most of the dandelion family is usually killed off by the first frost or two. The dandelion is apt to bloom almost anytime during the normal growing season, but is normally "most active during the spring," concluded the botanist.

Two-Day Visit

Auburn — Plans are under way for the first united county-wide drive for blood donors, directed by Mrs. John Magor, general chairman. A two-day county wide visit of the bloodmobile has been scheduled in Auburn Nov. 28-29 at the First Methodist Church. A quota of 240 donors to secure 200 pints of blood has been set.

Record Broken

Tokyo (UPI) — Police reported they had broken up a company which made and sold pornographic records. The firm called itself "The Japan Educational Records and Cultural Association."

Altrusa Club Sponsors Housing

The Lincoln Altrusa Club has accepted the request of the Pioneer Housing Corp. to become its sponsor in a senior citizens housing project at 12th and H Streets, according to Selma Hult of the corporation.

The invitation was accepted by Mrs. Phyllis Winkleman, Altrusa's president, at the November meeting of the Pioneer group.

"The Altrusa Club presently has 3 members on the corporation's board of directors," said Miss Hult, "and will promote sales as well as develop a program of activity."

Miss Hult also stated that Pioneer already has the money in sight to pay for the land whenever necessary.

"We will pay for the church at the project's proposed location on or about Dec. 1st, and have options on the other necessary tracts which surround it," she added.

Brock's Political Future Depends On Redistricting

Washington (AP)—Rep. Larry Brock, Wakefield Democrat who lost his Nebraska Third District House seat to Republican Ralph F. Beermann, Dakoty City, says the manner in which his state is redistricted will probably determine whether he tries to regain the seat.

Rep. Brock

The 1960 census result will cost Nebraska one of its 4 seats in the House and it will be up to the 1961 Legislature to set up the 3 new districts.

"I would want to see how the state is reapportioned before giving any thought to reentering the political field," Brock said.

Rep. Glenn Cunningham, Omaha Republican, said he felt the legislature would do its best to set up 3 districts on an even basis from a population standpoint.

On the basis of the state's present population, the 3 districts could have an average population of about 470,000 persons—not much higher than Cunningham's present area.

Brock agreed the Omaha district "probably would remain about the same but it is problematical what they will do in the other districts."

Asked about his present plans, Brock said they are indefinite.

"Most likely I will go into private business," he added, "probably in some connection with the livestock business."

He attributed his defeat to the vote surge in Nebraska for the Republican candidate for president, Richard M. Nixon.

Splatter Of Cake Halts Lady Luck

Polk—Mrs. R. C. Warner is warning all her friends not to let success go to their heads.

At a P-TA carnival she won a large cake and later won a large stuffed toy.

As she was leaving the platform with her winnings, she turned to tell a friend about her luck.

The cake, coated with gobs of frosting, slipped off the plate and splattered over a wide area of the floor.

Powerhouse Low Bid $17,461,918

Omaha (AP)—A bid of $17,461,918 was apparent low for construction of the powerhouse substructure and intake for Big Bend Dam on the Missouri River.

Nebraska News

District Army Engineers said J. A. Jones Construction Co., Charlotte, N.C., and Brown and Root, Houston, Tex., as a joint venture, submitted the low bid among 9 offered.

Another combine, Al Johnson Construction Co., Minneapolis, and Peter Kiewitt Sons Co., Omaha, bid $18,335,792.

The government estimate was $18,491,832.50.

The reinforced concrete structure, which will house 8 60,000 kilowatt hydroelectric units, is to be completed by Oct. 1, 1963.

PTA FAMILY NIGHT, STATE BOARD IN THE NEWS

The story of Treasure Island will come to life on Friday evening when the members of Riley PTA entertain at a Family Night program at the school.

Supper will be served in the "galley" beginning at 6 o'clock and a variety of games and booths will include "Walk the Plank," "Dig For Treasure," a "Pirates' Den," and a "Robbers' Paradise."

An original skit written by Mrs. Don Hanway will be "pirates" including (from the left) Dick Miyoshi, Don Desch, George Whiting (collapsed on the floor, Dean Sahmburg and Mrs. Roy Hollers.

The annual falll board meeting of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers will open this morning at the Hotel Cornhusker where state officers, committee chairmen and district directors will gather to make plans for the organization's spring convention.

Tour of the Town

—This is "goodbye" morning for Mrs. Harry K. Grainger who is leaving for Palm Beach, Fla., where she will reside. Mrs. Grainger recently returned from Denver, Colo., where she was the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hite Grainger and their family.

The Thanksgiving blueprint for Mrs. Grainger calls for Atlanta, Ga., and a few days spent as the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Edee.

* * *

—Generally speaking the week end might be called "rest period" for all but the brides-elect—and a few others of the populace.

We can't honestly say that there is a general exodus to Oklahoma and the game this week end, but we do know of one foursome who will have a Friday-to-Monday visit with friends in Oklahoma City, and will be among the game spectators.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Maly and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Maly, Jr., will leave on Friday to drive to Oklahoma City where they will be the week end guests of old friends of Mr. and Mrs. Maly.

* * *

—Other travelers we have in mind are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Miles who will be spending Thanksgiving in St. Joseph, Mo., as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Fletcher and their family.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Miles will leave a few days before the holiday due to the fact that Mr. Miles and Mr. Fletcher have some hunting plans.

* * *

—On the far side of the week end — Monday evening, to be specific, is a party for Miss Marnie Gardner whose marriage to Jeffre Cheuvront will be solemnized on Dec. 22, at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal.

On Monday evening Mrs. Theo Miller and her daughter, Mrs. Tom Sieg — and Mrs. Doric Crocker and her daughter, Miss Linda Crocker, will be dessert supper hostesses at the home of Mrs. Crocker, in courtesy to the bride-elect. Miss Gardner will be presented with a one-gift shower of pottery.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The company psychologist told my husband that he has an I.Q. bordering on "genius." Consequently, no one can live with him any more. Everyone else, in his opinion, is now "stupid," "infantile" or "lame-brained." (I am included.) He belittles me in front of the children. Ninety per cent of the time he is a wonderful husband and loving father. He has a brilliant future with a well-known company and we have all the material things I could hope for, but his mental "superiority" is causing me heartaches.

CAN'T SIGN MY NAME

DEAR CAN'T: A person's "I.Q." (intelligence quotient) alone will not carry him safely through the rough waters of day to day living. If he's as smart as he thinks he is, he'll forget his "I.Q." and concentrate on his "C.S." (common sense).

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I made a bet with a guy but we didn't shake on it. If I lose, do I have to pay?

BRUNO

DEAR BRUNO: You do. Your word should be as good as your grip.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. I am known to all my friends as "DEAR ABBY" because I am able to solve all their problems. But when it comes to my own, I draw a blank.

Abby, I like a boy who is a senior. He smiles at me, but that is all. How can I get him to notice me?

"DEAR ABBY NUMBER TWO"

DEAR "DEAR ABBY NUMBER TWO": You've been helping your friends with their problems, now turn to one of them for help with yours. That "smiling senior' must have a buddy. Have one of your friends "buddy up" to HIS buddy, and gently hint that you have noticed the smiling senior. Then he will REALLY notice you. All some boys need is a little encouragement. (P.S. Better case the situation first. He might have a girl.)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with your statement that "it is not the custom anywhere for an overnight guest to bring his own bed linen."

In Sweden it is considered quite proper. Considerate guests frequently carry their own linen on trips. They don't want to give the hostess extra trouble with laundry, which is a bigger problem in Sweden than in your country.

Sincerely,
SWEDISH IMMIGRANT

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 NT	Pass	3 NT

Opening lead — two of hearts.

Good defensive play is nothing more than good common sense. A defender practically always has available to him all the clues he needs to obtain the best possible results.

It is equally important to note that a good defensive player does not permit himself to be hidebound by rigid rules. He does not always return his partner's suit, nor does he invariably play second hand low or third hand high, nor does he otherwise play mechancially.

He adjusts himself, instead, to the circumstances he faces, and acts accordingly.

Here is a case where many players would go wrong in the defense. West leads a heart and dmmy plays the nine. If East makes the mistake of playing the queen, South has an easy time making three notrump.

Covering the nine with the queen gives declarer two heart tricks, and South simply forces out the ace of clubs to assure nine tricks. There is no possible recovery for the refense.

But if East ducks the nine (playing the seven so as to signal for a continuation of the suit), South cannot make the contract. Declarer must eventually lose three heart tricks and two other aces and go down as a result.

Ducking the nine is a violation of the rule that third hand plays high. This is true enough, but a departure from the general rule is strongly indicated as the best strategy in this deal.

The way East looks at the matter is this: He knows from the lead of the deuce that West has four hearts. Hence, declarer has two.

These two can consist of A-K, A-x, K-x, or x-x. In the first and third cases, it is obvious that playing the queen will lose a trick.

If declarer has A-x, nothing helps. South has two tricks coming regardless of what East does.

The only way the queen play can gain is if declarer has x-x. This is hardly likely to be the case, since South opened with one notrump.

Therefore, ducking the queen figures either to break even or gain a vital trick.

News Of Suburbia

MEADOW LANE

News from suburbia this morning includes mention of a bridge club get-together Tuesday evening, newcomers, and plans for the observance of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Hostessing the wives of the 424th bomb squadron officers Tuesday evening was Mr. Robert Byrom who entertained four tables of bridge at her home. Winning high score for the evening was Mrs. Glenn Lally, second high went to Mrs. Robert Hansen, and Mrs. Byrom was the recipient of the traveling prize.

Now for changes in the address book — we should note Lt. Robert R. Hippler and his family have moved to new quarters at McConnell Air Force Base in Wichita, Kan.

And moving into the former Hippler residence at 1109 Lancaster Lane were Larry J. Slaughter and Garry N. J. Powell.

And there are several new families moving into newly completed residences on Colony Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Jensen and their 16 month-old son, Todd, moved the latter part of October from 1405 Van Dorn to their new suburbia address, 1110 Colony Lane.

The welcome mat is out for Jack W. Hammes and his family. Mr. Hammes moved to 1010 Colony Lane in September from Minneapolis. His family, which includes Mrs. Hammes and three children, Glenn, Tom, and Marlene, plan to move to Lincoln the first part of the year.

Neighbors are happy to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Clinton A. Hoover and their two daughters, two year-old Shelley, and Kimberly, who is five years old. The Hoover family moved the first of the month from 200 So. 48th to 930 Colony Lane.

The Famous

From Our Christmas Kitchen

Christmas desserts are easily made using molds, baking tins, empty containers or simple to cut cardboard patterns. The Yule Log of spicy pudding is made of a chain of puddings baked in emptied narrow cans, and lends itself well to flaming technique.

Fruit cake cones, baked in steamed-pudding molds, are stacked one on the other to form a towering tree. A careful look at your own cupboards will yield further inspirations for decorative containers and molds.

FRUIT CAKE TREE

1½ cups walnuts, chopped
1½ cups Brazil nuts, chopped
3 cups (3 8-oz. jars) mixed glace fruits for cake
¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Measure the mold you intend to use. The recipe makes 4½ cups of cake batter. Allow about ½ inch of space at the top of the cake pan or mold for the cake to rise. Recipe may be doubled for larger mold.

Put nuts, cake fruits into large mixing bowl. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt over the fruits and nut and mix well with hands until well-coated. Beat eggs until foamy, add vanilla and blend well with fruit-nut mixture. Turn into well-greased mold. Tap gently to settle the mixture. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) about 1½ hours, or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Invert over cake rack to cool. When quite cool, make small holes all over the cake with a cocktail pick or skewer. Sprinkle with whatever you use to keep cake moist. Wrap in wax paper and foil and store in freezer or in airtight tin in cool place.

For Finish

1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2½ teaspoons water

Blend together above ingredients until smooth and creamy. Drizzle over top of cake and allow to drip down sides. Decorate with glace cherries.

COOKIE CHRISTMAS TREE

5 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups butter or margarine
3 cups sugar
4 eggs, well beaten
3 teaspoons vanilla

Sift flour. Measure. Add baking powder and salt. Sift again. Cream butter or margarine. Add sugar gradually. Beat until light. All well-beaten eggs and blend thoroughly. Add vanilla. Combine the sifted dry ingredients and the creamed mixture. Mix all together thoroughly and chill.

When thoroughly chilled, roll dough ¼ at a time into sheets ¼ inch thick. Cut out 10-12 star shaped cookies in graduated sizes, using cardboard patterns for outline. Make the first a 10-inch star, the second a 9-inch star and so on down to a 1-inch star.

Cut out 10 small round cookies (no larger than 1½ inches in diameter). One round cookie to be used between each 2 stars. Cut a small round hole in the center of each cookie except the 1-inch star. Bake on ungreased cookie sheets in a hot oven, 400° for 6 to 10 minutes.

For finish:

White frosting (1 package white frosting mix)
Red hots
Dragees

Frost the stars with white frosting (or colored if desired). With a pastry tube outline the edges of each cookie with lines of frosting. Impale a red-hot on the point of each star. Prepare a slender round stick supported on a square base so that it will stand. Decorate the base with frosting and sprinkle with tinted green sugar if liked. Slip the largest star on the stick, then a round cookie, then the 9-inch star, then a round cookie and so on till only the 1-inch star is left. Outline this with silver dragees and attach to the point of the tree with a little frosting. Alternate the points of the tree to get the effect of Christmas tree branches.

YULE LOG

6 cups crumbs, made from stale cake, coffee cake, or pound cake
⅓ teaspoon each of salt, cloves, nutmeg, allspice
2 tablespoons cocoa
1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1 tablespoon butter
4 tablespoons corn syrup
⅓ cup brandy or rum

For Glaze

1 cup apricot jam
2 tablespoons water
¼ cup slivered almonds

Measure the mold you choose and grease it well. This quantity makes 3 cups of mixture. Make the crumbs either by whirring the cake in a blender or by crumbling with a grater. Add the spices, cocoa and cornstarch to the crumbs. Mix well. Melt the chocolate morsels and butter with the corn syrup over gentle heat. When dissolved, add to the crumbs with the brandy or rum. Mix all together lightly. Put into greased mold or narrow tin cans. Cover loosely with foil and stand in a baking dish of hot water (or use a steamer). Bake in moderate oven 325° for 1 hour. Replenish the water if necessary.

A small amount of the mixture can be shaped into mushrooms and stalks, wrapped in foil and steamed beside the pudding for 20 minutes. Arrange on the log after glazing with jam.

To assemble: Slide the pudding onto a board or platter. Sieve 1 cup apricot jam. Add 2 tablespoons water. Heat. Spread over log, and stud with slivered almonds.

Leh's Once Crowded Bazaar Has Dried Up

Leh, Kashmir (AP) — Over the highest regularly traveled mountain passes in the world, several more than 18,000 feet high and one above 19,000, came caravans of mules, yaks and even sheep.

They brought bundles of Pashmina, the rare goats' wool that makes the softest shawls, plus bags of salt and other goods. They came south from China's Central Asian province of Sinkiang and west from Tibet.

The bazaar of Leh was the gathering place for people from many lands veiled in the mystery of remoteness. There were Kazaks and Afghans from Sinkiang, swarthy Tibetans from Lhasa, tall Punjabis from India. They made Leh a fabulous frontier market in the past century.

Military Post

But now the trade has dried up. Instead of being a crossroads, Leh has become a military staging post just behind the front lines of a cold war—cold from lack of actual fighting and cold from the bitter winter winds that sweep plateaus almost three miles high.

Leh is the provincial center of Ladakh, the eastern part of Jammu and Kashmir state. The disputed state is divided between India and Pakistan, with Ladakh in the Indian area. About 15,000 square miles of eastern Ladakh is claimed by the Chinese Communists.

Before that, the Sinkiang cities of Yarkand and Khotan, Turfan and Kashgar—cities few Westerners have seen—sent commerce over the Karakoram or Muztagh pass to Leh. From Lhasa and Gartok in Tibet came more trade. The goods were exchanged here for products of India and even the textiles of Lancashire and the kettles of Birmingham in England.

The most important import was Pashmina, the soft and flossy wool of Tibetan goats who live only in high altitudes. The flourishing Kashmir (or cashmere) shawl industry depended on Pashmina.

Efforts to raise Pashmina goats at 7,000 feet in Kashmir and here at Leh, which is 11,555 feet high, proved unsatisfactory. A farm has been established at 14,000 feet near Chushul, the advance Indian base near Chinese positions in Ladakh, but its production is not expected to answer the demand.

51 FUTURE TEACHERS HEAR CHOSEN PROFESSION DESCRIBED AS SIGNIFICANT

Fifty-one carefully selected future teachers attended an Introduction to Teaching Conference at Nebraska Wesleyan University Wednesday and heard their chosen vocation described in terms of "significance" and "service."

Dr. Donald O. Clifton, associate professor of educational psychology at the University of Nebraska said: "The significance of the teaching profession is unquestionable and the recognition of teaching skills is increasing rapidly."

"The citizens of tomorrow are a facsimile of their teachers today," he added.

Dr. R. L. Fredstrom, assistant superintendent for instruction in the Lincoln public schools, stressed the service aspects, pointing out that ". . . the life worth living is the one that offers the greatest opportunities for service," and that "teaching requires a dedication to the ideal of service that few other careers can match."

Dr. Clifton and Dr. Fredstrom served as opening and closing speakers for the conference, sponsored by the Capital City Kiwanis club with assistance from the Wesleyan department of education, which was designed to give the future teachers from Lincoln's public schools an insight into the profession.

Participants were chosen by their high school guidance counselors from the ranks of those showing both an interest in and an aptitude for a career in teaching.

Dr. Larry Vaughan, Wesleyan education department staff member and chairman of the Kiwanis club Vocational Guidance committee, planned and guided the conference.

Other participants included Wesleyan students Marilyn Brodhead, Scottsbluff; Dean Stewart, Beaver Crossing; Joan Seberg, Elwood; Louis Jensen, Blair and Judy Jeffers, York, who participated in a panel discussion on preparation for teaching careers, and Lincoln professional educators Pearl Schaaf of the State Department of Public Instruction; Mrs. Dorcas Cavett of the Bancroft School faculty; Richard E. Johnson, principal at Dawes Junior High School; Donald Darnell, Southeast High School guidance counselor and Mrs. Naomi Willson, Miss Nettie Clark and Dr. Milton D. Evans of the Wesleyan education department staff.

Home Folks Lose On A's Sale To St. Louis Group

Chicago (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics, who never have belonged to home folk, Wednesday were apparently sold conditionally to a St. Louis syndicate for $3.5 million.

Probate Judge Robert J. Dunne signed an order for sale of 52 per cent of A's stock owned by the late Arnold Johnson of Chicago with the understanding the St. Louis group will acquire the other 48 per cent over the weekend.

The St. Louis group emphasized that the sale is contingent upon the estate meeting its obligation to make the remaining 48 per cent available.

Judge Dunne said Monday was the target date for his approval of a final contract which would turn the A's over to the St. Louis syndicate headed by stock broker Elliot Stein.

The A's, formerly a lifetime project of Connie Mack in Philadelphia, were installed in Kansas City by Johnson in 1955. After Johnson's death March 10, the A's again went on the block amidst behind-the-scenes bickering.

A Kansas City group also had offered $3.5 million for the club, but Judge Dunne chose the St. Louis group because he felt it served best the interests of Johnson's remarried widow, Mrs. Warren Humes. and Johnson's estate.

The reported price of Johnson's 52 per cent stock was $1,820,000.

The sale was arranged Tuesday by an agreement reached by Mrs. Humes and the City National Bank of Chicago, co-executors of Johnson's will. The sale was made to pay debts and taxes on the estate, estimated at $1,500,000.

The St. Louis group, numbering about 10, is now expected to purchase the other 48 per cent of club shares through an arrangement with the bank for an additional $1,680,000.

Mrs. Humes and the bank had been at odds over the sale of the club stock. Mrs. Humes said she wanted to keep control of the club for her son, Jeffrey, 10; the bank wanted to sell the stock to liquidate debts.

Stein, also a stockholder in the Chicago White Sox, was represented by attorney Addis Hull, who said there was an agreement for Mrs. Humes to repurchase 20 per cent of the stock from the St. Louis group.

Hull said Stein would dispose of his "modest holding" in the White Sox, if the A's sale is finalzed, to conform wth baseball law which prohibits interests in more than one club.

Hull said he felt Judge Dunne accepted the offer by Stein's group because it was a tighter knit organization, whereas the Kansas City group was composed of 150 businessmen, and also because the St. Louis group had cash on hand.

Hull said he didn't think Stein has any intention of moving the A's franchise out of Kansas City in 1962 and the club definitely will operate there in 1961.

Franchise, Stocking Issues Prominent

. . . PLANNERS CONFIDENT

New York (AP)—The expanded American League today will sort out applicants for the new franchises at Washington and Los Angeles and will finalize plans for stocking the new clubs with talent for the 1961 baseball season.

It is possible that some of the players actually will be allotted to the new clubs at the meeting, where a tentative 162-game schedule is to be approved.

Despite a warning from commissioner Ford Frick that there must be a "fair and equitable amendment" of territorial rules before a second team in Los Angeles can be approved, the American League is going ahead confidently with plans for operating with 10 clubs in 1961.

"I feel that any problems we have will be resolved," said Joe Cronin, president of the American League, which expanded to 10 clubs in a surprise move last month.

"We have submitted an amendment to change the rules," said Cronin. "It will be voted upon at the Dec. 8 joint meeting of the major leagues in St. Louis. We are going ahead."

Baseball rules provide that neither major league shall be changed to include the territory of the other league without unanimous consent of both leagues.

In the event of a deadlock over an amendment, commissioner Frick would cast the decisive vote. Until the rule is amended, any new franchises in cities already represented in the majors must be provisional.

The National League is expected to object to the move into Los Angeles although it has announced plans to expand into Houston and New York, an American League city, in 1962.

Frick said earlier he considered both New York and Los Angeles "open cities," but added a proviso that any amendment to the existing rules must be "fair and equitable and recognize the inherent rights of the clubs." He added that he wanted a rule "we can live with in the future."

Walter O'Malley, president of the Los Angeles Dodgers of the National League who moved west from Brooklyn after the 1957 season, has objected to having a new club move in before he has built his own park at Chavez Ravine.

O'Malley also spent about $460,000 to satisfy the Pacific Coast League for the loss of its Los Angeles and Hollywood franchises and an estimated $250,000 for improvements to the Los Angeles Coliseum, where his club plays and the new club plans to play.

The Dodgers have several other monetary stakes in the deal.

"I feel that the O'Malley consideration will be resolved," said Cronin. "I am sure Walter O'Malley is a fair minded man with the best interests of baseball in mind."

The old Washington franchise already has been moved to Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The general managers met Wednesday to try to reach a decision on the manner of stocking the new clubs.

It was reported that each club would lose a total of 7 players, which would provide 56 men to be divided between the two new clubs.

Between 12 and 18 men would be considered "untouchable" on each current 40-man roster with the new clubs free to pick from the remainder at about $75,000 a pick.

Cougar End Nears Reception Record

By The Associated Press

If Washington State's Hugh Campbell catches just one pass against Washington Saturday, he'll have an NCAA record.

Campbell a sophomore, already has tied the major college record of 61 catches in a season, shared by Dave Hibbert of Arizona (1958) and Chris Burford of Stanford (1959). His 807-yard gain on receptions is only 57 short of the record set by another Washington State catcher, Ed Barker, in 1951 with 864.

Campbell isn't threatening the touchdown pass record, but he's leading in that department with 9 to 7 for New Mexico State's Pervis Atkins, who has caught only 22 passes.

Nearest to Campbell in receiving are Tee Moorman of Duke, with 37 for 352 yards, and Reg Carolan of Idaho, with 464 yards on 30.

Other miscellaneous major college leaders listed in statistics released Wednesday by the NCAA Service Bureau are:

Scoring—Bob Gaiters, New Mexico State, 113 points; Punt Returns—Pat Fischer, Nebraska, 276 yards; Kickoff Returns—Bruce Samples, Brigham Young, 361 yards. Samples and Fischer are new leaders.

In the record department, Auburn's Ed Dyas adds to his new marks every time he kicks a field goal—and he has kicked at least one in every game this season. His totals now are 12 for the season and 16 for a career.

Georgia Tech's Tommy Wells and Georgia's Durward Pennington, with 8 each, also have bettered the previous modern field goal record for one season.

Nolan Jones of Arizona State has kicked 24 extra points without a miss—plus 6 field goals. The full-season record for consecutive conversion placements is 22, by Yale's Billy Booe in 1948.

Iowa Sport Publicitors Make Pitch For No. 1

Iowa City, Ia., (UPI)—The University of Iowa sports information department Wednesday made a strong bid to regain No. 1 national ranking for the Hawkeye football team.

At the same time, Iowa coach Forest Evashevski said his team was "still in contention for the national title and a Rose Bowl invitation."

Iowa was ranked No. 1 by the United Press International board of coaches for 3 weeks before the Hawks were upended by Minnesota. The following week the Hawks dropped to 6th, but climbed back to 3rd this week after whipping Ohio State.

Rated ahead of Iowa this week were Missouri, No. 1, and Mississippi, No. 2.

"If the pollsters would pay more attention to opposition than to unbeaten teams which pick on petty foes, the college grid rating might make much, much more sense," the sports information department's two-page release said.

Called "The case of Iowa: How about that No. 1 poll spot?" the release said Missouri played only 3 teams that finished the season with winning records this year while Mississippi met only 5 "winners" and 4 "losers."

Iowa has played 5 teams with winning records for the season, two which ended with an even mark of wins and losses, and only Purdue—which beat Minnesota — on the losing side.

The total won-loss record of Iowa opponents was 41-22-3 for a .656 average, higher than that of either Missouri's or Mississippi's opposition, the statement said.

The report said Missouri's opponent racked up a 28-45-2 season mark for a .392 average, while foes of Mississippi had a 42-32-3 season record for a .560 average.

As further evidence that Iowa has met tougher competition than either of the teams ahead of it in the national ratings, the sports information department release said the Hawks played 4 opponents which were ranked among the top 20 teams in the nation.

They included Minnesota, which took over No. 1 rating after beating Iowa but has now dropped to 4th; Ohio State, now 9th; Michigan State, now 12th, and Kansas, now 13th.

Defendant Admits Offer In Florida Bribery Trial

Gainesville, Fla. (AP)—Aaron Wagman testified at his bribery trial Wednesday that he gave Florida fullback Jon MacBeth $1,500 as part of a deal to shave points on a football game.

But Wagman said the deal was proposed and engineered by Philip Silber, 19-year-old former University of Florida student and fraternity brother of MacBeth.

Silber has pleaded guilty and testified against Wagman.

The defendant, a 27-year-old souvenir salesman at Yankee Stadium in New York, said he also gave Silber $1,250.

Wagman told the circuit court jury Silber outlined the deal to him this summer and let Wagman in on the plan to get the needed cash.

Wagman described Silber's father as a "famous bookie." The defendant said Silber told him the deal had been planned by Silber and MacBeth after last year's football season—before Wagman met either of them.

MacBeth under cross examination stood by his testimony that Wagman was the person who bribed him.

The Florida fullback said the money was given to him with the understanding he would fumble or miss a tackle so that Florida would win by fewer than 12 points they were favord by gamblers.

Sports Writers Hung In Effigy

The dummies remained anonymous.

Humboldt has a 9-0 record this year and an 18-game winning streak.

Monday, the Northern California football writers selected San Francisco State Coach Joe Verducci as coach of the year. Humboldt Coach Phil Sarboe was second by a narrow margin. Verducci's lone 1960 loss was to Humboldt.

Court Affirms

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pennsylvania Superior Court Wednesday affirmed the conviction and sentencing of Harold Friedman of Philadelphia for bribery involving Humberto Robinson, pitcher for the National League's Philadelphia Phillies.

Robinson testified at Friedman's trial that Friedman came to his hotel room and offered him $1,500 if he would lose the second game of a twilight twin-bill Sept. 22, 1959, against Cincinnati.

Fischer Tops Nation In Returning Punts

. . . NU POLISHES FOR WINDUP AT OKLAHOMA

Nebraska quarterback Pat Fischer heads into his final game as a Cornhusker Saturday afternoon with a reputation as quite an expert on returning punts.

In fact the Husker senior is the No. 1 punt-returner in the nation, according to statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, NCAA statistician.

Fischer will take a 21.2 punt return average into the Oklahoma windup. He has gained 276 yards on 13 returns this fall.

His 84-yard touchdown return against Oklahoma State last week brought the national leadership.

Plans Changed

Coach Bill Jennings plans for an offensive scrimmage, devoting the practice session to no-contact polishing.

Sizing up the Cornhusker task Saturday, Jennings said:

"The OU won-loss record is misleading; OU's statistical supremacy over opponents is a correct gauge of their ability.

"From what I've seen and heard about Oklahoma, I certainly think they're as good as they were last year. And that means we'll have to play better than we did last year because the game is at Norman instead of Lincoln."

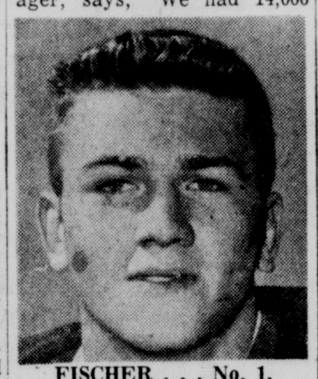
Travel Set

The Huskers will leave Lincoln via Braniff-chartered airliner at 11:45 a.m., Friday. They'll workout at an Oklahoma City high school plant and headquarter at the Biltmore Hotel Friday night

They'll bus to Norman Saturday morning and fly back to Lincoln immediately after the game, arriving home about 7 p.m.

Good Crowd

Forecasting a Dad's Day crowd of 46,000, Harold "Red" Reid, Oklahoma ticket manager, says, "We had 14,000 unsold seats Monday. There's plenty of room for the Nebraska game."



FISCHER . . . No. 1.

Nebraska stands only 3-6 overall and Oklahoma 2-5-1 but each has occasionally risen to the heights. The Scarlet licked Texas 14-13, Army 14-9 and lost with honor to Minnesota 14-26.

The Sooners nosed Pittsburgh 15-14, tied Kansas 13-13 and rushed for three touchdowns and 323 net yards while falling 19-41 to Missouri. A single victory over Kansas State comprises each club's achievement within the league. Nebraska stopped the Wildcats 17-7. Oklahoma did it 49-7.

OU Scout Report

A superb kicking game, a rugged defense coxswained by Center Don Fricke and an exciting touchdown threat in Quarterback Pat Fischer—that's Nebraska, Oklahoma's opponent in the final home game here Saturday, Oklahoma scout Bob Blaik says.

Blaik likes Fricke, mainstay of the Scarlet line. "He's as good a linebacker as I've seen all year."

Of Fischer, Nebraska's 166-pound, 5-8 senior quarterback, Blaik says, "He's an electrifying back, one real tremendous football player. He doesn't possess great speed but he has a marvelous change of pace and good football sense. He's a great competitor."

Blaik also liked Bill "Thunder" Thornton, Cornhusker fullback. "A real fine defensive player. Despite their won-and-lost record, Nebraska is a tough, hard-nosed football team. They'll come after you all the way."

Homecoming

Bill Jennings, the Cornhusker coach, played all his football at Norman, Okla. He was a star on Coach Dewey "Snorter" Luster's state championship Norman high team of 1936.

At Oklahoma, he played wingback and end under Coach Tom Stidham and ranks with Homer Montgomery '15 and John Reddell '52 as greatest Sooner pass fielders of all time.

Jennings still holds Oklahoma modern times school records of 26 passes caught in 1940 and 70 fielded during his three-year career here 1938-39-40.

Sports Club Meets

The Lincoln Abilities Indoor Sports Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Director's Room of the National Bank of Commerce.

NSAA Lists District Prep Cage Groupings

The class breakdown is the same as last year.

There will be 8 districts in Class A, 4 teams in each district, the winner to the state. In Class B, there are 8 districts with 8 teams, winner to the state.

Class C has 16 districts of 8 teams each, the winners to meet in 8 playoffs of two teams each for the state tourney berths.

In Class D, there are 32 districts of 7 or 8 teams, with the winners to play in 4-team playoffs for the 8 state tourney spots.

Lincoln now has an all-city Class A district for the first time, with Pius X, now in A. Ralph Beechner is chairman of the district.

University High is in a B district with Ashland, Auburn, Crete, Falls City, Milford, Syracuse and Tecumseh. This district generally plays its tournament in Lincoln.

Along with groupings of the teams for district assignments, the NSAA has named a district chairman for each group.

It is the job of this chairman to arrange a meeting of the schools in each district to select a tournament site and tournament director. This is to be accmplished by Dec. 10.

The district chairman named now is not necessarily the tourney director, and his home school is not an indication of the tourney site.

The list of chairmen and teams in each district appears on page 47.

—PUDGY QB SURPRISE MISSOURI STARTER, BUT HE'S DOING 'JUST FINE'—

Tiny Ron Taylor Makes Tigers Go

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — Ronnie Taylor could easily be mistaken for the student manager at the training table rather than the rugged little quarterback who has directed Missouri's Tigers into first place in the national Football rankings.

Ask coach Dan Devine of the undefeated and untied Tigers how Taylor played in any one of the Tigers 9 games and the answer is always the same:

"Ronnie played real well. He played just fine."

And the fact that Taylor, a pudgy looking junior of only 175 pounds, has played real well has been one of the biggest factors in Missouri's great season.

The 5-foot-8-inch Taylor, who actually looks soft, never got above 3rd string his freshman and sophomore years.

He played only briefly in the last two games of last season and was expected to have trouble beating out sophomore Daryl Krugman and Jim Johnson for the first string job this fall.

Krugman, who was considered a great prospect, injured a knee the first minute of preseason practice and was lost for the campaign. Taylor took over and played so well Johnson got to play very little.

Taylor became the only Tiger quarterback with any game experience when Johnson broke a hand 3 weeks ago.

The records show how well Taylor has performed. He's played more than 95 per cent of the time while the Tigers were on offense.

He has completed 20 of 35 passes for 249 yards and 3 touchdowns. He's allowed only two interceptions.

Ronnie is the first blocker in Missouri's bread-and-butter sweep plays. He usually has a big tackle or guard to take out before the play can gain momentum.

Steady and self assured, Taylor has held the ball on all of Bill Tobin's place kick conversions—29 of 32—and 3 fied goals.

A standout passer at Chillicothe, Ill., High School where he played under his father, Taylor is a stickler for running plays with the Tigers.

"I know I should be passing more than I do because all we face these days are 8 and 9 man lines," Taylor said.

He added, however, that with such running backs as Mel West, Norris Stevenson, Norm Beal and Ed Mehrer ground travel seems to be the simpler thing.

Taylor bubbles with enthusiasm and confidence. His teammates think he is great.

His biggest test comes Saturday when Missouri seeks its first perfect season in a game with the tough Kansas Jayhawks. Kansas is quarterbacked by one of the finest triple-threat backs and All-America candidate—John Hadl.

Memories In Deshler

A letter from H. C. Struve of Deshler questioned the 6th place rating given the Dragons in the next-to-last Class C rankings. I expect the No. 3 finish in the final list this week appeased Deshler fans somewhat.

A brief answer to Mr. Struve's question of why Deshler had dropped is that the next-to-last ratings reflected a 13-0 victory over Wilber, which was not as impressive as other teams had done against Wilber.

Weekly performance may show up in the week-to-week ratings, but the final list covers the entire season.

The most interesting portion of Mr. Struve's letter, however, was a copy of the program for a football banquet which honored the 1943 team.

Both the 1943 and 1960 squads had 8-0 campaigns. The 1943 outfit blanked all opposition. Mr. Struve was toastmaster at that '43 affair.

I was intrigued by the schedule played by Deshler in 1943. Either Deshler has grown, other towns have shrunk, or else a comparison reflects the general trend toward seeking opposition of a compatible nature.

Only one of the teams played in 1943 was played in 1960. Nelson was the opener both years, losing 43-0 in 1943 and 36-6 this year.

Three of the teams which gave the 1943 squad trouble are now 8-man teams. Deshler beat Davenport only 6-0 and Exeter and Edgar by 19-0 margins.

The Dragons also downed Red Cloud, a school still comparable in size to Deshler, and Superior, a B school on Deshler's schedule until this year, by 25-0.

The big win, undoubtedly, was the 7-0 victory over big Fairbury.

Had Deshler played the same schedule this year, the Dragons wouldn't have been high in the ratings, despite 8 shutouts. But it was probably a tougher slate in those days.

All-State Campaigns

The usual siege of campaigns for particular all-state candidates is underway once again.

It's not unusual to get a string of letters from one town backing their product for all-state at this time of the year. It's also obvious that some coaches make a pact with other coaches, "You vote for my boy and I'll vote for yours."

There's nothing wrong with this, but it does reach the ridiculous stage sometimes. I was once deluged with a couple hundred post cards for one candidate, whose coach must have contacted everybody in the county.

Occasionally, it does bring to the fore a boy who might otherwise have been overlooked. But it is also the reason why the votes themselves, although counted and recorded, do not determine the makeup of the all-state teams. Those are selected by the Journal-Star prep raters, and the votes are used as nominations.

The other sometimes ridiculous aspect of the all-state balloting is the ballot from coaches whose teams may have lost half or more of their games, yet he nominates about 5 of his boys—and no others—for all-state.

The boy's record and what opposing coaches say about him carry the most weight.

Michelosen Gets Permanent Post, Increased Pay At Pitt

Pittsburgh (AP) — Johnny Michelosen, head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh for almost 6 years, Wednesday got a permanent job at his alma mater and a salary hike, too.

"His job is just as permanent as mine," said Chancellor Edward Litchfield referring to the indefinite, unwritten agreement between Michelosen and the University.

Litchfield added at a news conference:

"We like his (Michelosen's) loyalty to Pitt. What's more, we like him personally and so do the boys with whom hhe has worked. First, we are giving John an increase in pay, and second, he will no longer have to worry about contract renewals.

"He will continue to work here on the same basis as all of our other staff members, and the only bond to which he will be held is our good faith in him and his in us. And, if he ever decides to quit coaching, it will give him an opportunity for reassignment to some other university area."

Michelosen, obviously pleased, said, "I played football for and received my schooling at Pitt and consider Pitt my home. I will do my best to be part of the University team."

Athletic Director Frank Carver added, "John has been head coach for almost 6 years and the University should know by now if he is the man for the job. We feel he is."

Michelosen's second 3-year contract expires at the end of this season which has one game remaining against Penn State here Saturday.

Since becoming head coach of the Panthers Michelosen's teams have compiled a 33-23-5 record. This season's record is 4-2-3.

Phils Plan 45,000-Seat Ball Park

Philadelphia (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies and builder Matthew H. McCloskey plan to build a 45,000-seat stadium at a cost of $8 million in northeast Philadelphia, it was disclosed Wednesday.

Robert R. M. Carpenter, owner of the National League ball club, and McCloskey, national finance chairman of the Democratic Party, would build the modern stadium on city-owned land.

The proposal is contingent upon the city's making the land available under a long term lease and for a token rental. Top city officials seemed agreeable.

The plans call for completion in 1963.

Under the plan, announced at Mayor Richardson Dilworth's regular weekly news conference, the city eventually would wind up owning the stadium, free of all debt. The stadium would be financed through a non-profit corporation to be headed by Robert W. Crawford, city recreation commissioner.

The proposed park would be built near the Delaware River and the mouth of Pennypack Creek in the far northeast. It would have parking facilities for 10,000 cars.

The Phils now play in antiquated Connie Mack Stadium, a 35,000-seat park owned by Carpenter.

Meeting Of Kelso, Bald Eagle Unsure

New York (AP)—As things stand now, the Gallant Fox Handicap Saturday at Aqueduct could be just a $75,000-added race or a decisive duel for horse of the year honors between Kelso and Bald Eagle.

Kelso, from the Bohemia Stable of Mrs. Richard C. du Pont, has won 6 straight stakes, but no definite word has come from trained Carl Hanford whether his 3-year-old star will tackle the Gallant Fox.

Trainer Woody Stephens, who handles Bald Eagle for Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, said he plans to give the horse a ¾-mile drill today at Belmont Park. Bald Eagle has had 3 hard races since Oct. 22, climaxed by his brilliant victory last Friday at Laurel in the Washington, D.C. International. He retires to the stud in Kentucky after this season.

"If he looks good and sharp after the workout" said Stephens, "then we might start in the Gallant Fox, but that is up to Mr. Guggenheim. 'If he seems a little tired, no, for he had had 3 tough races in 3 weeks." Stephens also said Bald Eagle would stay in the barn if it rained.

The Gallant Fox is two days closer this year than in 1959, when Bald Eagle won both the International and the Gallant Fox.

Kelso's connections might have been waiting for definite word about Bald Eagle's participation in the Gallant Fox, which is a 1¾-mile gallop. Both Bald Eagle, a 5-year-old, and Kelso were assigned 128 pounds for the race.

When Sword Dancer dropped out of the Laurel International because of an injury, Kelso's owner declined to fill the vacancy. An invitation had gone to Mrs. du Pont some time before Sword Dancer's defection.

In their last meeting, the 2-mile Jockey Club Gold Cup Oct. 29 at Aqueduct Bald Eagle was 3rd with Kelso the winner and Don Poggio runner-up.

Whitney's Bid Short Of Goal

Louisville, Ky. (AP)— The fates of racing stymied C. V. Whitney's bid Wednesday to push his racing winnings for 1960 above the million dollar mark.

With 4 horses entered in separate races at Churchill Downs, the wealthy Lexington sportsman had to settle for one second place finish that added just $560 to the $966,041 his horses have earned since Jan. 1.

The disappointing result left the Whitney stable just $3,399 shy of the "magic million" that has been attained in 6 years only by Calumet Farms.

AFL Slates Draft With Telephones

Dallas, Tex. (AP) — Commissioner Joe Foss announced Wednesday the American Football League will conduct a telephonic player draft of 6 rounds late this week. The remainder of the selections will be held sometime in December.

The partial draft will be conducted by telephone through league headquarters here and will be completed during the weekend. Results will be announced Monday.

Order of selection by the 8 teams will follow the last-team-first system, with the clubs picking in reverse order from their won-lost records.

Foss said he had informed NCAA officials of the AFL's draft plans.

The commissioner said the 6-round telephonic draft will enable AFL clubs to pick the 48 players of obvious, well-known ability.

"Then a team can concentrate its search on other players," he said. "Many have equal or more ability—but the determining of this requires more research."

Foss added that the league will attempt to eliminate the signing of players who have not completed their college football eligibility. "I will void any AFL contract signed before the player has completed his football eligibility," Foss said. This, he said, includes bowl games.

Triple-Threat End Lineman Of Week

College Park, Md. (AP)—"He can do everything and does it well," Maryland football coach Tom Nugent says of his end, Gary Collins.

Sure-fingered pass catching puts Collins on a par with any offensive end. But he also has blocked punts and field goals, intercepted passes and kicked the ball himself in standout style.

A touchdown pass he caught with 65 seconds to play for a 22-19 victory over North Carolina last Saturday earned him Lineman of the Week in the Associated Press poll.

The junior from Williamstown, Pa., had given North Carolina fits on defense. In a goal-line stand by Maryland he made 3 of 4 tackles. Another time he reeled off 5 straight tackles.

"I don't think it was my best game," depreciated the tall 208-pounder.

What was?

"Clemson, I guess."

He played for only 5 minutes in that game and couldn't punt because of a sore hip. But his pass catching set up the first Maryland touchdown and he carried another in for the deciding score in a 19-17 victory.

Against Wake Forest, he partially blocked a field goal try to keep Maryland ahead at halftime. As the game neared its end, Wake Forest was driving toward the goal and coach Nugent sent in Collins on defense. He intercepted a pass in the end zone to save Maryland's 14-13 victory.

Although North Carolina State nosed out Maryland 13-10, Collins punted the ball dead 6 inches from the goal and when N.C State tried to kick out, he blocked it.

Another Maryland player fell on it for a touchdown.

Collins stopped a State drive for another touchdown by intercepting a pass. It was the first interception in 48 passes thrown by Roman Gabriel.

He has caught 23 for 337 yards and 3 touchdowns in Maryland's 9 games this season. His punting average is 35.1.

By the way, he's also thrown two passes and one was completed.

Yankees, Braves Confer On Trades

New York (AP) — The New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves have discussed trades but they are reported far apart. The talks may be resume at a later date, however.

"They want infielders," said Roy Hamey, new general manager of the Yankees Wednesday. "We want pitchers. But we have a good ball club and we are not going to break it up to gamble on an extra pitcher. The price McHale (John McHale, Milwaukee general manager) sets is too high."

Sure Way Out Of Bad Situation

OMAHA, Nebr. — Mr. Robert F. Christensen, 3824 North 70th Ave., says: "I learned the wonders of Baker's Hair Tonic several years ago. It really takes care of dandruff and itchy scalp, and by using Baker's occasionally your scalp stays in good condition." It's so easy and pleasant to use. Not messy or greasy like most so-called dandruff remedies. Use it any time, anywhere. No Federal excise tax on Baker's Hair Tonic, because it's a specific for dandruff. For a "sure way out of a bad situation" caused by dandruff and itchy scalp, use Baker's Hair Tonic. Satisfaction, or money back. Adv.

Grubbs Says Insurance Dept. Faces Challenge

. . . Warns Of Federal Regulation

By Don Walton

State Insurance Director William Grubbs Wednesday warned Gov. Dwight Burney that the federal government will assume regulatory powers over the insurance business if the states do not perform their functions properly.

Grubbs made the statement in requesting an expansion budget increase of $56,000 over funds appropriated for the 1959-61 biennium.

The governor heard requests from 5 agencies as budget hearings entered their second day.

The insurance director referred to a report of the antitrust and monopoly subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Following an investigation of state regulation of the insurance industry, the report concluded that "the federal government ought to regulate insurance," Grubbs noted.

"If we fail to meet the challenge, state regulation will fall."

Grubbs suggested that "some states may not react" to the challenge.

"Let's not be one of those," Burney replied.

By expanding the services of the State Insurance Department, Grubbs said, "we will show Nebraska is trying to fulfill its obligations to the industry and the public."

Some Changes

Among changes which Grubbs suggested: an increased term for the director, and a hike in technical staff members.

If the governor and the Legislature do not wish to expand the department's services, Grubbs said, he will ask a budget hike of just $26,000, all for periodic salary boosts.

The Senate subcommittee report, he noted, ranked Nebraska 43rd among the states in the manner in which its insurance department has an opportunity to function.

The department's total budget calls for an average annual increase of 4.48% over the next two years.

The boost is necessary to raise salaries and hire 3 additional employes, Chairman Joseph Brown said.

The request is for $919,008 compared to the present budget of $847,421.

$50,000 Surplus

Brown estimated that the commission will show an unexpended balance of nearly $50,000 in the current budget, due to "economies" enacted by the agency.

Budget requests for the attorney general, state treasurer and Banking Department also called for general salary boosts.

Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck and Attorney General-elect Clarence Meyer said their budget asks $311,662 compared to $295,970 appropriated in 1959

State Treasurer Richard Larsen and his deputy, Frank Ullstrom, asked a decreased figure of $88,773 compared to $92,872.

Banking Director E. N. Van Horne requested $37,822, a boost over the $26,708 appropriated for the current biennium.

5th Highest Paid

Discussion over the proposed salary raises revealed that Grubbs is the 5th highest paid man in his department while Van Horne's two deputies are both salaried at a higher figure than the director.

Such salaries are necessary, they said, to retain skilled personnel.

Governor-elect Frank Morrison and his budget advisor, State Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln, sat in on the hearings.

They will resume Friday at 9 a.m., with requests from the auditor, Board of Educational Lands and Funds, Labor Department and possibly the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Kennedy's Aide Sorensen Invited To 'Bread Basket' Meet In Lincoln

Governor-elect Frank Morrison Wednesday wired President-elect John Kennedy asking him to send his special counsel, Ted Sorensen, to Morrison's proposed Bread Basket Governors Conference in Lincoln.

Sorensen would participate in the meeting as the representative of the President-elect.

Date of the conference has been tentatively changed again—this time to Dec. 12.

Morrison spoke by telephone with Sorensen, a former Lincolnite, concerning the proposed session.

In other action, the governor-elect lunched with State Sens. Don Thompson, Richard Marvel, John Munnelly, Jules Burbach and Norman Otto, and State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan.

Otto is Morrison's administrative assistant.

The new Democratic chief executive also conferred with Charles Uerling Sr. of Hastings concerning proposed legislaion to implement the industrial development constitutional amendment approved by Nebraska voters.

Work With Sponsors

Morrison said he will co-operate with the bill's sponsors (expected to be Sens. Joe Vosoba, Richard Marvel and J. O. Peck) in connection with the legislation.

Uerling was one of the chief proponents of the constitutional amendment.

Morrison is also considering appointment of a state co-ordinator of resources development programs.

Such an appointee, he said, would integrate the activities of the Resources Division, public power districts, chambers of commerce and all other agencies interested in industrial development.

Morrison will accompany Gov. Dwight Burney Thursday on a trip to Grand Island to attend the annual meeting of the Nebraska State Chamber of Commerce.

The governor-elect will address a Chamber of Commerce meeting in Cozad Thursday night.

Scottish Rite Degrees Given

The 15th through 18th degrees of the Lincoln Chapter of Rose Croix were conferred on 78 candidates Wednesday during the 115th Scottish Rite reunion in Lincoln.

Earlier, the 4th to 14th degrees of the Lincoln Lodge of Perfection, with Morris D. Siegel as master, were conferred.

On Thursday, the Lincoln Council of Kadosh will confer the 19th through 30th degrees.

Specialist Says Normal Board Setup Needs Big Overhaul

The California specialist heading a study of Nebraska's higher education said Wednesday he will recommend that the Board of Education of State Normal Schools be reorganized.

Dr. Lyman A. Glenny of Sacramento State College, hired as a study coordinator by the Legislative Council Committee on Higher Education, said the 6-member board, called the normal board, is so organized that its members represent the "vested interests" of the 4 state teachers colleges rather than the interests of the general public.

Dr. Glenny spoke to the Citizens Council on Higher Education, 12 of whose 32 members were present for the monthly meeting in the Capitol.

He said in analyzing higher education in 15 to 18 other states, he has never seen the same kind of board setup, and called it "very unfortunate" for the State of Nebraska.

He also cited several other "deficiencies" of the state teachers colleges or "normal schools" on which he will make recommendations next month to the committee.

While Dr. Glenny was reviewing the educational matters before the citizens council, State Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings was delivering to the legislative council a progress report on the studies to date.

Dr. Glenny also explained the staff reports or "background reports" to the citizens council.

The Board of Education of State Normal Schools is by tradition composed of one representative from each of the schools, and two other persons, all appointed for 6-year terms by the governor, plus the state commissioner of education.

Hands Of One

This means, in effect, eacn institution places its fate in the hands of a single person on the board.

"If he is an effective person, his institution will fare well by it," Dr. Glenny said.

If he is "less effective and less outgoing," his institution will reflect it.

There is evidence to show this fact, Dr. Glenny said. A report on the normal schools made last year by a Colorado specialist showed that the teachers college at Chadron had a capacity for 1,400 students but an enrollment of only 700. The same report showed the college at Wayne had a plant for only 540 students — but an enrolment of 1,100.

In addition, some of the schools spend "a great deal more per student" than would be expected in relation to the others.

Drop The Name

Another recommendation: Dr. Glenny said the name "normal schools" should be dropped from the board's name, as it creates a false impression and makes faculty recruitment difficult. The schools have dropped the name; only the board keeps it.

In budgetary matters, Dr. Glenny said the normal schools ought to apportion funds "on a more objective basis than sheer political negotiation," but this is "about how it is done" under the present setup.

Formulas should be adopted for funds. Similar bodies outside Nebraska have set up long-range formulas for building construction, for example, something the Nebraska board has not done but could do as it has enough information on hand to set priorities for the next 10 years.

In personnel policy, the normal board is "almost nil," Dr. Glenny said. The policy has been left to the college heads. As a result, there is no board-backed tenure, no statement on academic freedom, and no system of leaves of absence even for professional purposes.

As for their programs, the teachers colleges produce "far more industral arts and physical education teachers than there's any need for in the state," Dr. Glenny said.

Costly, Not Trained

This "tremendous overproduction," double in the case of industrial arts, is costly not only because gymnasiums and shops are the most expensive kinds of facilities but because the graduates generally teach in their "minor" areas and "aren't trained for the jobs they finally go to."

Ants Kill Kid

Kampala, Uganda (UPI)—A colony of Safari ants killed a year-old African baby left lying alone on a cot while the parents went to a party.

Low Bid Told On Fire Cars

O'Shea-Rogers was the apparent low bidder on two new station wagons for the Lincoln City Fire Dept.

Their bid was $3,855 plus trade-in of the two 1950 Oldsmobiles now used by the Fire Dept.

Other bidders and bids plus the trade-ins are:

Misle Chevrolet, $3,988; Morrow Motors, $4,070.88, and DeBrown Auto Sales, $4,550

E. Germany Helps Cuba

Berlin (AP)—East German tankers are carrying Soviet oil to Cuba. The official communist newspaper Neues Deutschland said that two 7,949 ton tankers, Leuna I and Leuna II, are running shuttle service between Havana and Odessa, the Soviet Black Sea port. Transportation of oil is presumably part of the economic aid promised to the Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime by East Germany last July.

Stocks Take Small Losses

New York (AP) — The stock market fell back late Wednesday after failing to extend its brisk upturn of the previous session.

Losses in major groups were not large, being limited to less than one point for the most part, but recent high-flying specialties came in for a drubbing.

Business news was mixed.

Metal shares were upset by news copper stocks in the hands of producers rose to the highest level in two years in October.

Autos continued under pressure because of their supply problem.

Drug firms apparently were aided by prospects for legislation providing medical aid for older people in the next congressional session.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .30 to 214.20 with industrials down 1.40, rails down .20 and utilities up .20. The Dow Jones industrial average was off 2.10 at 604.77.

Volume totaled 3.11 million shares compared with 2.99 Tuesday. Of 1,232 issues traded, 471 advanced while 521 declined. There were 21 new highs for the year and 16 new lows.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed. Volume totaled 1.08 million shares compared with 1.09 Tuesday.

Corporate bonds drifted lower. U.S. government issues edged higher.

Bond volume rose to $5.89 million par value from $5.26 million Tuesday.

Foreign Housewives Learn American Kitchen Contraptions

By Jim Woodson

Learning how to operate, dismantle, and clean modern American kitchen equipment is just one of the many new experiences of a foreign housewife who comes to live in the United States.

A group of 12 foreign wives, representing such countries Ecuador, Egypt, India, Turkey, and Jamaica were instructed in the use and care of modern gas-operated kitchen equipment Wednesday at the Central Electric & Gas Co. offices in Lincoln.

Miss Laura Piepgras, home demonstrator for the gas company, demonstrated the elementary techniques of dismantling and cleaning first a modern stove, then a refrigerator and gas dryer.

The foreign wives showed particular interest in a new method of baking cakes illustrated by Miss Piepgras, who went through the on-the-top burner process right before their eyes, later serving pieces of the finished product to them. The cake was baked in a closed skillet pan on the top burner of a demonstrator stove.

While she dismantled and replaced the parts of the stove and refrigerator, Miss Piepgras also gave her audience a few helpful tips on the maintenance of the equipment.

'Not In Oven'

"When lighting your gas stove (older models, or if pilot light has gone out) you should be careful never to drop the used match into the oven," she warned. "These will pile up before long and block off the flow of gas through the tubes, causing the burner to fail."

The visitors were also told that, when cleaning the top burner units on the stove, the holes around the sides should always be kept clean to prevent clogging and malfunction.

These foreign visitors, presently living in Lincoln while their husbands attend the University of Nebraska, are members of the International Wives Friendship Club, of which Mrs. Dagmar Hoiberg is chairman. The club is sponsored by the Faculty Women's Club at the University and receives many opportunities during the year to better educate themselves in the American way of living through tours and guest speakers in the Lincoln area.

LEARNING ABOUT THE KITCHEN

47-YEAR-OLD CONCERN NOW OFFERS

$300.00 Per Month When You Are Laid Up!

$300.00 per month is now payable to folks of this area when laid up by sickness or accident, under the Paycheck Protection Plan of the Benefit Association of Railway Employees.

This Benefit Association plan pays $300.00 a month or $3,600.00 a year for disability due to accident or confining sickness. Payment at this rate is made for as long as you are laid up and can't work, whether for a day, a week, a month or even for life. There are other benefits, too—for non-confining sickness, for hospitalization, home nursing care, payment for accidental death, and many other benefits. There are some exceptions and waiting periods, of course, but surprisingly few.

The Benefit Association Paycheck Protection Plan does not reduce its benefits as you grow older, and cost does not increase with your age. It is renewable at your option and the company's. You're paid in addition to other insurance or Workmen's Compensation—and are protected both on and off the job. It is offered to employed men and women in good health, ages 18 to 69, at special low cost with no policy fee. Of course it cannot cover sickness already in existence.

If you don't know about the Benefit Association of Railway Employees, the information we send you will be a fine surprise. It's true, for 42 years this association provided benefit service only for employees of railroads and members of large industrial groups. But in the past seven years, we've expanded our service to include all men and women who can qualify on our standards of age, occupation and health condition.

Thousands of families from from coast to coast have experienced the prompt, helpful, friendly service offered by the Benefit Association which has already paid benefits of more than $225,000,000. And if your family has this protection when needed, you'll agree with the folks who say, "The Benefit Association is a real friend in need!"

New Sewage Fund Requests Slash Surplus

Five more towns have applied for federal sewage plant construction funds, thus probably reducing the chances of several cities getting "additional" funds, T. A. Filipi, Nebraska sanitary engineer, said Wednesday.

The Nebraska Water Pollution Control Council will meet Friday to consider the new applications.

The total amount requested by 18 cities has risen to only $78,537 short of the $577,575 granted by the federal government.

Filipi said this means the cities who have previously been granted sewage construction funds but have come back for more, may not receive anything on their additional requests. Those cities were Omaha (for the Hascall Street interceptor and Seldin Heights projects only), Seward, Red Cloud, Plattsmouth, Nebraska City, Bellevue and Schuyler.

5 New Ones

The 5 additional applications were as follows: Jackson, $2,245; Ansley, $15,131; Wilcox, $4,410; Bradshaw, $10,450; and Madison $22,950.

Twelve cities have been given priorities on $460,031 of the federal allocations. In addition, the city of York has requested $83,820 but its application has not been completed, and the city of Lincoln was expected to request up to $142,000.

The federal water pollution abatement program, started in 1956, pays up to 30% of the cost of sewage treatment plants.

Last year the state received $686,650 which was divided among 24 applicants. The goal is to have all the state's sewage treated by 1966.

Father Who Put Son In Scalding Water Sentenced

Alvin Vernon Ginger of 2265 Vine was sentenced to 18 months in the State Penitentiary Wednesday in Lancaster District Court on a charge of assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury.

Ginger, 28, had pleaded guilty before Judge John Polk to assaulting his two-year-old stepson, Donavan, on Nov. 3.

Police said the boy apparently was set in a pan of scalding water. The child's buttocks were severely burned and he also had bruises on his body. The boy is still hospitalized but is now listed in good condition.

'Recall Of Dependents Serious'

Frankfurt, Germany (AP) — "This is just army life, the life we chose," said an old army major in Frankfurt.

"The recall of dependents is certain to cause a serious morale problem," said an air officer at Wiesbaden.

An army wife was distraught at the thought of being separated from her husband and going back to the states with 5 children . . .

These were immediate reactions to President Eisenhower's announcement in Augusta, Ga., that 284,000 out of 484,000 dependents of U.S. troops abroad would be ordered home for economy reasons.

The announcement is expected to come as a shock to most of the 150,000 or so dependents in Germany, and to add to family anxieties. Because of the time difference most were asleep when the news came here in the late night hours.

Official spokesmen for both U.S. Army and Air Force in Europe headquarters in Heidelberg and Wiesbaden, respectively, refused comment, saying they must await official notification from Washington.

The reaction from the few military families reached early this morning was mixed. The concensus was that nobody will like being separated from husband or family.

The wife of an army warrant officer stationed in nearby Hanau, when asked to comment on a possibility of leaving her husband in Germany, said: "I don't like it at all if it's just dependents, that's me going back by myself with 5 kids."

"And," she added, "I don't think the other wives will like it. Having a father is important to children."

Another dependent mother said:

"Sure it costs more to send dependents over here, but few of us have permanent homes in the United States. It would be an undue hardship on us to make us stay there when our husbands are abroad."

An air force captain, who, like all questioned on Eisenhower's announcement, refused to be identified by name, had this to say:

"Let's see what happens, who'll be hit. This will create a serious morale problem. What they'll have to do is to cut the overseas tour of duty — now 3 years. I don't mind being separated from my family in war but peacetime, that's a different story.

"I certainly object to being without my wife for 3 years." The officer, married and with one child, said he has completed 1½ years of his 3-year tour abroad.

The major, who has a wife and two children, said:

"Of course, I don't like to get rid of my family. But as a career officer — and I feel the same — I can say that we have to do what we are told. We've been separated in World War II and during the Korean War. We chose the army as a career, this is the life we like, and I can also speak for my wife, we'll accept orders without grumbling.

"After all, we've been separated 10 out of the 20 years I've been with the army."

FEW HOMES LIKELY FOR DEMO PUPS

Lake Mohawk, N.J. (AP) — Tommy Sheridan, 8, and his brother Eddie, 6, two ardent supporters of president-elect John F. Kennedy, have named their newly arrived litter of pups John, Fitzgerald, Kennedy, Jackie, Caroline, and Lyndon.

Mrs. Thomas F. Sheridan of 18 Oak Parkway, the boys' mother, isn't sure the army of pups can live on the current budget. She plans to keep the brood 6 weeks and then seek "foreign" aid.

But with those names it should be difficult to find homes for the pups in this Republican stronghold which gave Vice President Richard Nixon a 2,489-801 majority.

Withdrawal Would Hurt Shopkeepers

London, Thursday (AP)—The withdrawal of many American servicemen's families will be a blow to the dollar incomes of thousands of small businessmen in scattered communities throughout Britain.

In postwar years small but thriving businesses have mushroomed around the American communities in Britain, catering to the special needs of American wives and children. Often the dependents are miles from town.

Others who will be hit by the withdrawal are investors in property rented to American service families.

Gross High

Although individually these businesses are small, their total gross is staggering. American servicemen and their wives and children spent $58,534,070 in the year ended last June 30 on rents, heat, light, food, recreation and other purchases from local tradesmen.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said there was no immediate word here on how many of the 35,000 wives and children of American servicemen now in Britain may be withdrawn.

But on the figures given by President Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga., it seemed probable that more than 20,000 dependents soon will be heading home from Britain.

Other Dollars

The presence of American service families in Britain means the expenditure of millions of dollars in other directions.

In the last fiscal year, for instance, U.S. forces in Britain paid more than $77 million to British government agencies for supplies and services. This included construction, communication facilities, freight and passenger transportation and similar items.

Only this month, completion was announced of a high school for 568 pupils at the Lakenheath U.S. Air Force Base. It cost $2,044,000.

Plenty

There are 9,855 pupils in the 25 American schools in Britain. They alone provide plenty of business for Britain's small store keepers, both with the items their parents buy for them and the items they purchase with their allowances, ranging from candy and phonograph records to books and bicycles.

Many American dependents, as a U.S. Air Force spokesman put it, will be sorry that they have to go home.

Many small British businessmen will be even sorrier to see them go.
